Excitement Of Walk Over

Astronauts Settle Down To 3 More Days In Orbit

All's Okay With Twins On Gemini 4

Physically Normal After Excitement Of White's Stroll

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The excitement of astronaut Edward White's walk among the stars wore off early today and America's space twins settled down to another three days of orbiting the earth.

White took over the controls of Gemini 4 shortly after 6:15 a.m. (EST) to let command pilot James McDivitt relax in his second sleep period.

Mission control informed the astronauts their capsule was revolving about the earth in an orbit that ranged from 101 miles at its lowest point to 179 miles at the highest.

Medical officers at the space-control complex here said after the first four-hour sleep period that sleeping habits and appetites of both were disrupted by the lingering excitement from White's sensational 20-minute glide outside the capsule on the third orbit Thursday.

However, by the 10th orbit, about 11 hours later, their blood pressure, temperatures and heart beat were back to normal.

McDivitt had one complaint early today. A balky latch on White's hatch door kept them from jettisoning the now-surplus equipment needed only for White's space walk.

"We are crowded and we have most of that junk down in the foot well," he reported this morning.

The antics of White, 34, highlighted the first-day voyage as Gemini 4 streaked around and around the earth.

Part of today's plan called for White and his command pilot, James A. McDivitt to pretend they are returning from a moon trip and try to orient themselves visually by spotting landmarks such as the Florida Peninsula.

White and McDivitt were scheduled to stay aloft four days. Both got their first sleep late Thursday night and early today although White slept fitfully, apparently still exhilarated by his space walk.

The excitement also affected their appetites. Mission control said McDivitt ate only about half of what he was expected to consume.

"They didn't eat more because they were elated and excited," the report said.

Space officials indicated there was a chance President Johnson might try to call the astronauts sometime today.

White stayed alone in space for 20 minutes, double the time spent by a Soviet cosmonaut last March, and had to be coaxed back into the capsule by McDivitt, who followed peremptory commands barked into space from mission control in Houston.

Man, 27, Dies After Injury In Auto Crash

Sherman Mikeals Becomes County's 11th Victim Of '65

Sherman Mikeals, 27, of Railroad St., injured May 11 when an auto he was driving struck a utility pole at E. 5th and Elm Sts., died today at 10:45 a. m. in City Hospital.

Mr. Mikeals had undergone surgery for internal injuries suffered in the collision. Police said he was driving a 1958 four-door sedan owned by Leo Fiorillo, 453 Virginia Ave.

His death boosted to 11 the Columbiana County traffic toll for 1965. Ten had lost their lives in county traffic at the same time in 1964.

It was the first traffic fatality in East Liverpool since Jan. 21, when a pedestrian was killed while crossing W. 3rd St.

Officers said the auto was damaged heavily when it crashed into the utility pole. In addition to the internal injuries, Mr. Mikeals suffered cuts of the chin and the fingers of the right hand.

School Bus Bill OK'd In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG — The Senate Thursday passed controversial legislation to provide limited public bus transportation for parochial and private school children and sent the measure to Gov. William W. Scranton.

The vote was 32 to 16, with the Republican majority split down the middle of its 26 votes, and 19 of 23 Democrats in favor of the measure.

Gov. Scranton said he was delighted and that he would sign the bill as soon as it reaches his desk. That will be sometime next week.

The bill, whose approval was a foregone conclusion, passed after relatively brief and remarkably restrained debate. Not one of the 14 senators who debated the measure, either Democrat, Republican, Protestant or Catholic, injected one measure of religious fervor in their discussion of the issue.

Both proponents and opponents are certain that the constitutionality of the school bus measure will be challenged as soon as the governor pens his name to it.

Many in the floor debate, from both sides, called for a court decision. All were aware of the questionable constitutionality of Thursday's action.

Jury's Report Slated

The Chester fire department Thursday afternoon extinguished a blaze at the Smith-Davis Upholstering Shop, located in the Govey Store Building on Indiana Ave. between 2nd and 3rd Sts.

Unanimous Vote Given Measure Sponsored By Sargus

Ohio Senate OKs Compromise Bill Tightening Strip Mine Regulations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Partisan barriers to major legislation in the Ohio Senate have relaxed for the first time this session with passage of a compromise bill tightening strip mine regulations.

The unanimous vote Thursday was the first time in the five-month-old session that the evenly divided upper chamber agreed on legislation of major significance.

Some lawmakers saw the development as a possible break in the chamber's legislative log-jam and speculated that wheels may begin to turn soon on other vital measures standing in the way of adjournment.

Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, was chief sponsor of the strip mine bill which he shepherded through more than five months of committee hearings, many marked by bitter controversy.

At one point in the prolonged hearings, Sargus reported threats on his person had been made by special interests opposed to the legislation.

He received glowing compliments from fellow senators including Republican Sen. Jim Thorpe, R-Stark, who said Sargus "fought the battle when the hour was dark, and I certainly salute him on the floor of this Senate today."

Sargus conceded that the bill as passed was weaker than the original measure he introduced as Senate Bill No. 1 at the start of the session last January. But he called it "a giant step forward" and a victory in "the battle for better and more effective reclamation laws in Ohio."

The unusually amiable Senate session coincided ironically with action in the lower chamber on House Bill No. 1. House members passed and sent to the Senate the measure which would grant sales tax exemption for water pollution control devices installed by industry.

The House wound up its work week, but Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-Miami, scheduled an unusual Friday session to compensate for time lost in Monday observance of Memorial Day.

The Senate was to vote on six bills today, including measures controlling committee reports by the legislative service commission and permitting school boards to purchase or lease automobiles.

Before senators voted on the strip mine bill, Sargus won floor approval of five amendments he said "beefed up" the measure, and restored some provisions stricken in committee.

One would permit the chief of the Division of Forestry and Reclamation to deny licenses to applicants if land they proposed to mine, in the opinion of the chief, could not be reclaimed.

Sen. Ross Pepple R-Allen, proposed Thursday that legislators be reimbursed up to $1,800 for living expenses during the current session.

Rep. Carl Stokes, D-Cuyahoga, proposed a legislative investigation of conditions at Lima State Hospital.

Sen. Charles J. Carney, D-Mahoning, asked the Senate to condemn the Ku Klux Klan, the Communist Party, and the John Birch Society.

In addition to the water pollution bill, the House passed measures to:

Paving Nears Completion On First St. Clair Stretch

Work is nearing completion on paving the first 18-foot-wide segment on outer St. Clair Ave. and the first concrete will be poured by the middle of next week for the last half of the 36-foot thoroughfare.

Then work halts this afternoon for the weekend, the crew expects pavement will be in place up to a point near Detroit St., which is at the brow of the grade near Highland Colony.

By sometime Monday afternoon, if weather permits, the pavement for the first 18-foot lane should be complete to Princeton Ave., the south end of the job.

Herman Brothers, Inc., of Youngstown, the contractor, started the paving work about two weeks ago at the north end of the job at the city limits near Cain St.

Work on paving the westerly 18 feet of the new street will begin at Fisher Ave., Maplewood, rather than at Princeton Ave.

In that way, traffic will be permitted to move along the unpaved westerly half of the right-of-way from Princeton Ave. to Fisher Ave. while the newly-poured concrete cures on the easterly half of the street.

After pouring the pavement from Fisher Ave. to the north end of the job, the crews will return and place the concrete for the stretch between Princeton Ave. and Fisher Ave. By that time, the newly-poured concrete on the east half of the street will be cured and traffic will be routed over it temporarily.

The crew hopes to start work by Tuesday morning on the segment from Fisher Ave. to the north city limits.

Construction crews emphasized that all of the tentative schedule is contingent upon favorable weather and a lack of interruptions. They emphasized that motorists should avoid the construction zone wherever possible.

A detour remains in effect today for City Transit Co. buses, which normally are routed around Highland Colony on the Jennings Ave. loop. Because of construction work at the point where Jennings intersects St. Clair, the buses are being routed past the loop, making their entire run on St. Clair.

In House Strip Mine Action

Wetzel Plans To Launch Hearings Next Thursday

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Prompt committee hearings and further debate lie ahead in the Ohio House for the first strip mine bill to pass either house of the legislature since 1955.

Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, chairman of the House Mines and Natural Resources Committee, said Thursday night he will begin hearings next Thursday on the bill sponsored by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, which won 28-0 approval in the Senate.

Wetzel said he will schedule two hearings on the bill before tossing it into a subcommittee which has been considering another strip mine measure sponsored by Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne.

The veteran Columbiana County Republican has made it clear he is opposed to any "tough" strip mine legislation. He said Thursday he will attempt to have the best features of the Fisher and Sargus bills combined in subcommittee.

He said he is unalterably opposed to the performance bond increase, proposed in both bills, from $220 to $325 an acre.

"This would run 14 or 15 strip mine companies out of business in my county alone," said Wetzel. He said a majority of his committee agrees the proposed bond increase is too high.

Wetzel declined comment on the other features of Sargus' bill, including the major amendments which restored some of its original strength. "I'll have to look it over," he said.

Pressure for strip mine legislation has developed steadily during the long and often bitter Senate committee debate on Sargus' bill. A few weeks ago, Gov. James A. Rhodes was quoted as saying the legislature should come to grips with the strip mine problem.

Wetzel stated flatly Thursday that a strip mine bill will come to the House floor from his committee.

Sargus, however, has indi-

There was no indication whether the carrier and her escort would sail for other waters once the Marines were aboard.

Johnson announced in Chicago Thursday night that Brazilian Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim, commander of the Inter-American Force in the Dominican Republic, had advised him "that conditions in the Dominican Republic now permit further reduction of our military personnel."

Britain's top space tracker, Sir Bernard Lovell of the Jodrell Bank Observatory, said, "The American achievement, coming quickly after the Russians, demonstrates how closely matched they are for a manned lunar landing."

The Gemini flight was front-page news in Moscow also, but most papers carried an early Tass dispatch from New York stressing the failure to rendezvous with the booster rocket.

Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ, published a brief dispatch from a Western news agency reporting that White was in space for 20

In House Strip Mine Action

Wetzel Plans To Launch Hearings Next Thursday

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Prompt committee hearings and further debate lie ahead in the Ohio House for the first strip mine bill to pass either house of the legislature since 1955.

Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, chairman of the House Mines and Natural Resources Committee, said Thursday night he will begin hearings next Thursday on the bill sponsored by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-Belmont, which won 28-0 approval in the Senate.

Wetzel said he will schedule two hearings on the bill before tossing it into a subcommittee which has been considering another strip mine measure sponsored by Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne.

The veteran Columbiana County Republican has made it clear he is opposed to any "tough" strip mine legislation. He said Thursday he will attempt to have the best features of the Fisher and Sargus bills combined in subcommittee.

He said he is unalterably opposed to the performance bond increase, proposed in both bills, from $220 to $325 an acre.

"This would run 14 or 15 strip mine companies out of business in my county alone," said Wetzel. He said a majority of his committee agrees the proposed bond increase is too high.

Wetzel declined comment on the other features of Sargus' bill, including the major amendments which restored some of its original strength. "I'll have to look it over," he said.

Pressure for strip mine legislation has developed steadily during the long and often bitter Senate committee debate on Sargus' bill. A few weeks ago, Gov. James A. Rhodes was quoted as saying the legislature should come to grips with the strip mine problem.

Wetzel stated flatly Thursday that a strip mine bill will come to the House floor from his committee.

U.S. Marines Say Goodbye To Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The U.S. Marines said goodby to Santo Domingo today as President Johnson ordered the rest of them out.

Helicopters were airlifting the 2,100 leathernecks to the carrier Boxer offshore.

There was no indication whether the carrier and her escort would sail for other waters once the Marines were aboard.

Johnson announced in Chicago Thursday night that Brazilian Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim, commander of the Inter-American Force in the Dominican Republic, had advised him "that conditions in the Dominican Republic now permit further reduction of our military personnel."

"I have accordingly ordered the withdrawal of all remaining units of the United States Marine Corps totaling approxi-

Wants Them To Halt Aggression

Johnson Urges Russians Join Search For Peace

CHICAGO (AP) — President Johnson has told the people of the Soviet Union he wants them to withdraw support of aggression and subversion and join the United States in a common search for peace.

Appearing Thursday night before several thousand Cook County Democrats who paid $100 a plate to hear him deliver his first on-the-record speech to a political audience since the November election, Johnson said at the outset: "I do not believe this is an appropriate place tonight for partisanship."

Declaring that the peace of mankind transcends political considerations, Johnson said he had this message for the people of the Soviet Union: "There is no American interest in conflict with the Soviet people anywhere. And no true Soviet interest is going to be served by the support of aggression or subversion anywhere in the world.

"We of the United States of America stand ready tonight, as always, to go with you onto the fields of peace."

However, the applause seemed even noisier when the President announced later in his speech that he had ordered the withdrawal of the 2,100 Marines still in the Dominican Republic.

Johnson said the nation's purpose in Santo Domingo and elsewhere "is—and will always be—to serve the peace of mankind."

He said, "The American people want to be a part of no war. But the American people want no part of appeasement or of any aggression."

In an apparent effort to contrast his recent policies with those followed by many countries prior to World War II, Johnson said:

"In the 1930s, we made our fate not by what we did but by what we failed to do. We propelled ourselves — and all mankind — toward tragedy, not by decisiveness but by vacillation, not by determination and resolution but by hesitancy and irresolution, not by action but by inaction."

He asserted "there just must be no such failure in the 1960s."

Johnson flew here Thursday afternoon for the speech and returned to Washington immediately afterward.

Trucker Gets Brief 'Space' Ride In Cab

SALINEVILLE — An Akron trucker came to earth in his simulated space capsule — a tractor cab — when his rig crashed into a tree on W. Main St. and the cab was knocked off the chassis about 3:55 a. m. today.

Police Chief Ray Keister said Charles Edward Lang, 43, of Akron was unhurt in the mishap in front of the home of William Burnip of W. Main St. near Line Alley.

Lang told the officer an auto crowded his rig off the roadway and it struck the tree, the impact hurling the cab, with Lang in it, to the ground beside the front wheels.

Bark was knocked from the tree and the lawns of Burris and Gene Jarvis were damaged. Diesel fuel oil spread to the street from ruptured tanks and firemen were called to flush it away.

Five Airmen Killed In Crash Of Tanker

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — Five airmen were killed in the crash of an Air Force KC135 tanker aircraft Thursday night near Walker Air Force Base.

Names of the dead were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The tanker was on a routine mission and approaching a Walker AFB runway when the accident occurred, base spokesmen said.

There are two tanker groups at Walker, a Strategic Air Command base.

Rehearsals Are Set For County 4-H Band

LISBON — Columbiana County youths over 12 who possess musical talent and are interested in joining the Columbiana County 4-H Band are asked to attend the first rehearsal Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Lisbon Grange Hall on Route 30, west of Lisbon, Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work, said today.

The band is open to any boy or girl regardless of where they live in the county.

Gosney's Rap Draws Reply From Wetzel

Continuing a battle of words between leaders of the two political parties, State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, Lisbon Republican, today issued a reply to an attack made on him May 28 by Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman.

Gosney, commenting on a GOP statement on highway construction in the county, had remarked that he was "glad to see the state representative has something on his mind beside the mining interests," a reference to strip mine reclamation laws before the State Legislature.

"I am glad to say that I am very much interested in the progress of the coal industry of Columbiana County for its millions of dollars in annual payrolls, the several hundred people employed and the endless thousands of dollars paid in personal property taxes each year to the county's school districts," Wetzel said.

"I think it is a very necessary industry for the economy of Columbiana County."

Wetzel added that when he first went to the Legislature in 1949 "I found the state highways in Columbiana County in deplorable condition. . ." He said he fought the administration of former Gov. Frank Lausche, Democrat, to seek improvements and added: "I have been able to get all the state highways in Columbiana County in good condition" in many respects.

Wetzel's three - page statement then cited a list of improvements that he said has come to the county during his term in the Legislature.

Concluding, he said: "I hope this information will let Mr. Gosney know my interest for the county is not only in the coal industry and that I have been constantly awake to the needs of the county."

It was Alexander Pope who said that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

Bark was knocked from the tree and the lawns of Burris and Gene Jarvis were damaged. Diesel fuel oil spread to the street from ruptured tanks and firemen were called to flush it away.

LISBON — Columbiana County youths over 12 who possess musical talent and are interested in joining the Columbiana County 4-H Band are asked to attend the first rehearsal Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Lisbon Grange Hall on Route 30, west of Lisbon, Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work, said today.

The band is open to any boy or girl regardless of where they live in the county.

Five Airmen Killed In Crash Of Tanker

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — Five airmen were killed in the crash of an Air Force KC135 tanker aircraft Thursday night near Walker Air Force Base.

Names of the dead were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The tanker was on a routine mission and approaching a Walker AFB runway when the accident occurred, base spokesmen said.

There are two tanker groups at Walker, a Strategic Air Command base.

Gosney's Rap Draws Reply From Wetzel

Continuing a battle of words between leaders of the two political parties, State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, Lisbon Republican, today issued a reply to an attack made on him May 28 by Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman.

Gosney, commenting on a GOP statement on highway construction in the county, had remarked that he was "glad to see the state representative has something on his mind beside the mining interests," a reference to strip mine reclamation laws before the State Legislature.

"I am glad to say that I am very much interested in the progress of the coal industry of Columbiana County for its millions of dollars in annual payrolls, the several hundred people employed and the endless thousands of dollars paid in personal property taxes each year to the county's school districts," Wetzel said.

"I think it is a very necessary industry for the economy of Columbiana County."

Wetzel added that when he first went to the Legislature in 1949 "I found the state highways in Columbiana County in deplorable condition. . ." He said he fought the administration of former Gov. Frank Lausche, Democrat, to seek improvements and added: "I have been able to get all the state highways in Columbiana County in good condition" in many respects.

Wetzel's three - page statement then cited a list of improvements that he said has come to the county during his term in the Legislature.

Concluding, he said: "I hope this information will let Mr. Gosney know my interest for the county is not only in the coal industry and that I have been constantly awake to the needs of the county."

It was Alexander Pope who said that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread."

Can They Ever Be The Same?

Astronauts McDivitt and White are looking down us from their orbit.

Exploration of outer space is referred to correctly as the zenith of scientific accomplishment.

Every resource of modern science has been brought to bear on this still incredible accomplishment of mathematicians, physicists, engineers and manufacturers.

If our civilization and the Russian civilization were to have spent comparable sums of money and to have exerted similar effort on almost anything that could be mentioned, spectacular results would have been achieved.

WOULD THEY have been more spectacular, however, than the unique experience of the few Americans and Russians who have gone into outer space for the greatest adventure conceivable to mankind?

This is the first generation of space explorers. The explorers of tomorrow will not have to be satisfied with first steps. They will make the full journey, first to the moon, then to other planets.

They will live out the dreams of earth men and learn to move in the area of the universe within reach of earth — the solar system that is the miniscule fragment of infinity men can comprehend.

Space flight is baffling to non-scientific minds, but what is happening to space explorers is not utterly scientific. It is their privilege to be freed momentarily from the bonds that hold mankind to earth — to escape into the infinity where the human mind can soar wing to wing with the spirit of all the ages — to look down briefly on earth and see it as the sum of all its parts.

WHAT WILL astronauts McDivitt and White think about while we earthlings think about them?

Will we seem as far away from where they are as they seem from where we are, plodding through our chores and wishing we, too, could soar free as birds . . . on and on and on?

What will it be like to come "back to earth?" Can they ever be the same again?

Big Brother The Snooper

A showdown may be shaping up in Washington on official snooping.

Hearings will start Monday on psychological tests. They will be held by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee. Another Judiciary subcommittee has been holding hearings on mail snooping and electronic snooping.

The use of lie detectors on federal employes has been under congressional investigation, too. A House Government Operations subcommittee issued a report after hearings recommending changes in lie-detector practices.

THIS PARTICULAR detail of the showdown will be of interest to people fighting lie detector tests in private industry. There also is lively opposition to private industry's snooping into private lives by means of psychological tests.

Government departments are divided on the issue.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has declared in a congressional hearing it does not trust the lie detector technique to be reliable enough for screening its personnel.

The U.S. Civil Service Commission opposed psychological tests of a personal nature in selecting employes. Tests like these are most likely to stir up controversy, because it is the natural reaction of a person being tested to resent probings into such personal matters as his sex life.

Or, if it is to be the prerogative of prospective employes to delve into such personal matters, it should be the prerogative of prospectives employes to have similar information about their would-be bosses.

THE DEPARTMENT of Labor, Interior Department, Defense Department and the Peace Corps all claim the privilege of asking candidates for employment about their innermost thoughts, religion and personal attitude.

Some trace this unhealthy snooping to the now almost forgotten era of John Foster Dulles and Joseph McCarthy, when State Department employes were required to tell what magazines they read.

Nixon Vs. Goldwater

When the four Republican ticket leaders of the five still living (Gov. Landon of Kansas couldn't make it) met in Washington for a strategy meeting, the party's key issue was not long in showing up.

Discussing the race by New York Rep. John V. Lindsay for mayor of New York, Richard M. Nixon, the GOP candidate, who almost won in 1960, agreed that the attractive New York Republican should run in his own name and in his own image—not as a Republican but as a reform candidate, soliciting Democratic votes, Liberal party votes, all the votes he can get.

Thomas E. Dewey, who was favored to win in 1948 but didn't, agreed that it would be foolhardy to flaunt Republicanism in New York City with its 3-1 Democratic registration.

Other Republicans like Gov. Romney of Michigan and Gov. Scranton of Pennsylvania also thought Rep. Lindsay should run to win, not to prove that he was a staunch Republican willing to go down to defeat for the party's 1964 image. That would be foolish anyway, because Mr. Lindsay never has tried to be a staunch Republican.

He dissociated himself from Sen. Goldwater in the 1964 campaign and won easily while the head of the ticket was going down to defeat. And what does Sen. Goldwater think of the Lindsay strategy of running for mayor as an individual, not as a GOP symbol?

He opposes it. Lindsay should be proud to run as a Republican, is the Goldwater view. "What he's saying is that in name he's a Republican but he doesn't want to be known as one," declared Sen. Goldwater to an interviewer.

This is the Republican party's key issue. It is between empiricists like Mr. Nixon who claim a political party exists to win and idealists who think it exists to uphold a particular point of view at any cost.

The issue is not simple. Political parties exist for both reasons—to uphold points of view and to win. But as many a battle-scarred politician has said, "If I don't win, I can't uphold anything."

It's Tough!

By Truman Twill

How many men have read a recent story about the requirements for being a big-shot executive and wondered, as I did, why they never made it?

The authority quoted is president of a business consulting firm that helps corporations find executives. He disarms the reader by acknowledging that many executives in the past reached the top by devious routes and shouldn't be there.

Then he passes on some hints about picking executives scientifically.

This is where puzzlement sets in among us potential executives whose sterling qualities are not being recognized. How can people be so blind?

The ideal big shot is lean, active and a hard competitor. OK. I am 25 pounds underweight, according to the charts, active as a squirrel in nutting season and played football seven years with no qualifications other than derring-do. Pow! Crunch!

The ideal executive is married, has children, has stayed put with the same company, does not live for the moment but plans ahead and has outside interests.

I am married, have children, stayed put, do not live for the moment but am planning ahead for retirement and am an indefatigable girl-watcher, raconteur, TV watcher, magazine reader, weekend farmer and willing to take up horseback riding if Jacqueline Kennedy asks me to go on a canter.

Nothing in the whole list of specifications finds me lacking.

I worked on summer jobs before I was 15. My family background was one of pride and no poverty. I was not a big man on campus in the sense of being deeply involved in good works and constructive projects.

If given a choice between reading a good book and watching TV or a sporting event, I'd choose the book — but it would have to be worth it.

I am conservative in dress. My neckties do not light up. I eschew loud patterns and freakish styles. I keep my heels in repair.

Infinite detail and pin-sorting bore me. I always see the big picture. I have a firm grasp of finance. I am a planner. I am a good listener. I am conscious of other people's problems, particularly of their shortcomings. All these things are important.

Despite qualities that would be as valuable as a lode of pure uranium to any prospector who knew what he was looking for, the talent scouts have passed me by.

There are millions like me — outstanding triumphs of civilization who could put the touch of genius on this era if given the opportunity.

But we bloom and waste our fragrance on the desert air while the talent scout goes on and on. We are the diamonds in the back yard that no one notices because all the talent scouts ever see in the back yard is the clothesline and the garbage can.

It's tough, ain't it, gents?

This 'n That

The world's tallest tower which was built before the television era is the Eiffel Tower, in Paris, France. Built for the Paris exhibition and completed in March of 1889, the tower was 984 feet three inches tall. This height now has been extended to 1,052 feet by a TV antenna.

The greatest operation of forgery in history was that of the German Third Reich in 1940-41, which went under the code name of "Bernhard," and involved $420 million worth of Bank of England notes.

The only numeral which, when written out, has the same number of letters as its meaning is "four."

. . . And Government Can Taketh Away

U.S. Reds Plan 1966 Convention

By Victor Riesel

There have been several secret meetings of American Communist leaders at New York City in the last few months. And after contentedly recounting their new financial resources, their ability to attract thousands to their big city rallies, their massive distribution of literature and their increased membership—they can say accurately that reports in the "far-out leftwing" of the death of the Communist Party, USA are grossly exaggerated.

Victor Riesel

In fact, the party under its new security system has so revitalized itself, it now plans to run a national convention. It has not held such a public gathering of its rank and file officialdom since 1959.

The national Communist party congress originally was scheduled for this winter. But recently Communist—chauffeur-driven—leader Gus Hall summoned some 55 regional officials to New York City. They discussed tactics and decided to postpone their convention until early 1966—an election year.

THE REGIONAL PARTY functionaries were briefed on the international battles and ideological conflicts between Moscow and Peiping. The 55 national committee people were told to return to their districts and get to drafting policy documents and preparing recommendations for the agenda. They also were instructed to ready "progress reports" in their districts.

At the first of this year's secret Communist conferences Gus Hall outlined the movement's basic strategy. Until Nov. 3, 1964, he said at a gathering in February, the organization's entire strength had been aimed at defeating the forces of Barry Goldwater. Now the the Communist apparatus has just been shifted to exerting mass pressure to change the course of President Johnson's foreign policy.

There also has been the blueprint of national membership drives. This campaign will be as subtle as Sonny Liston's idyll on canvas. The Communist recruiting campaign calls for concentration of organizers in California to double the membership there.

IT PLANS to zero in on the defense production center of Baltimore; the auto industry in Detroit; the railroad yards in Chicago; the steel belt swinging out of Pittsburgh and the minority communities in the huge Eastern population centers.

This will mean concentration on the labor movement. There has been insufficient action in the Communist labor "clubs" and cells and this has disturbed the national party leadership. They feel they've made "exhilarating" progress among the university youth but not among the working class youth.

They also believe that they can recoup their strength among older workers in areas where the Communists once had considerable strength—which means the big Midwest industrial cities.

Therefore, the best guess is that the Communists will run their 1966 national convention in Chicago. The last one was held in Harlem.

This re-infiltration of labor, on which can be based industrial and political activity, will be operated openly.

IT WAS FBI director, J. Edgar Hoover who predicted the party would go public.

"In the belief that the 'climate' in the U.S. is changing rapidly in its favor," explained Mr. Hoover recently, "the Communist Party, USA, is beginning to open the veil of secrecy that has surrounded it since June 1961. . . a new party program is in preparation. . . ."

There are those who disagree sharply with Mr. Hoover over the political and intellectual and industrial potential of the Communist party.

But there is no doubt that the Communist movement now is heavily financed and that when its leaders meet in secrecy they talk of having more than 10,000 clandestinely registered members—and boast of definite knowledge of another 90,000 on whom they can count for ideological comradeship.

If so, the Soviet Union does have a formidable political force as its opinion-making front runner inside the U.S.A.

White House Fights Lindsay

By Andrew J. Glass

The White House has assigned the highest political priority to crushing John Lindsay's bid to become mayor of New York City.

Although the New York election is still more than five months away, top Democratic circles in Washington have reacted to the Lindsay challenge with extra-ordinary interest.

The initial reaction of highly-placed Democrats to Mayor Robert F. Wagner's professed reluctance to run for a fourth term was that it might be a shrewd political maneuver designed to grasp the offensive from Lindsay.

In any event the mayor's move has not disarmed knowledgeable Democrats. "Lindsay must be defeated," one of the most influential political figures in the Johnson administration told a friend.

The alarm bells were ringing in Washington even before the mayor's declaration that he might not run. These were two of the reasons:

In light of lagging Republican fortunes, a Lindsay victory could immediately propel the 43-year-old congressman, a vote-getter of proven potency, into the front ranks of the party And, in Democratic eyes, this would put him in contention for a place on the GOP national ticket in 1968.

All in all, the Kennedy forces and Lindsay could thus profit greatly at the expense of Lyndon Johnson.

Before citing personal reasons for his possible withdrawal, Wagner and others studied recent polls and reports that placed his popularity with the New York electorate at an all-time low for him. The mayor, apparently has acquired a bland, an even tired, image after spending 12 years in office trying to cope with the city's vast problems.

Lindsay, on the other hand, exudes precisely the kind of vigor that the mayor lacks.

While he is extremely popular among his "silk stocking" largely Democratic-oriented constituents, he remains almost unknown on the streets of Harlem and Brooklyn.

Therefore, the Democratic forces will make a maximum effort to pin a national Republican label on the challenger. And Lindsay, just as surely, will resist identification with the GOP as he has already indicated.

Should the Lindsay campaign catch on with the voters, the White House must make a series of complex political judgments over how much and what kind of aid should be sent to beat back his challenge. Should, for example, Vice President Humphrey be dispatched to campaign by the side of the Democratic candidate?

This type of effort in a local race holds inherent dangers, even when the contest carries profound national overtones. Lindsay is certain to try to exploit any overt White House thrust against his candidacy.

A Tragic Reminder

By David Lawrence

Polish Vote Reflects U.N. Failure

For several months the impression has been conveyed to the people of the United States that somehow or other the satellite states in Eastern Europe now are being given more and more freedom and are being subjected less and less to Communist dictatorship. Facts which came out in the open this week show how mistaken such an impression really is. What are those facts?

David Lawrence

1. While about 18.5 million people voted in the national elections in Poland for parliamentary and local government candidates, there was no opposition party. The Communists dominated the single party whose candidates were on the ballot.

2. Although the voting was said to be not compulsory, it was considered unwise to abstain. More than 90 per cent of the electorate turned out to vote. This is evidence of how well disciplined is the Communist organization.

3. Each of the 616 candidates for the 460 national parliament seats was pledged to support the Communist-drafted platform.

A dispatch from Warsaw by the United Press International, describing the elections, said that some curtained booths were provided for those voters who wished to strike out certain names where there was more than one candidate for the same post, but that few voters went into the booths. The dispatch added:

"Most voters considered the results were preordained and that making a public show of secret balloting would be a futile and perhaps ill-advised gesture."

THE COMMUNISTS have maintained complete power over the conduct of the five post-war elections which hav been held in 1947, 1952, 1957, 1961 and 1965. Thus, in a period of 18 years, there have been only five opportunities for the people to go through the form of voting. In each case, the Communist leaders have taken charge and no opportunity was given to cast votes for an opposition party.

By maintaining such complete control over the elections and by selecting candidates who are thoroughly indoctrinated with Communist ideology, the Soviets have no need today to station their troops in Poland or in any of the other satellites. Such is the recognition of Communist power and the effect of an involuntary acquiescence to it.

The Moscow government controls what is going on just as effectively as if it had military rule in each of the satellite countries. Indeed, civilian Communists are as thoroughly trained in how to maintain discipline as any army could be.

What occurred in Poland this week is a sample not only of what happens in the other Communist-bloc countries in Eastern Europe but of what is planned for every country in Latin America in which the Communists today are seeking to take over the sovereign governments by an infiltration process.

CUBA IS a significant example of how the Communists work. They send to a country trained leaders who know how to pick out the officials to supervise the operations of the national as well as the local governments.

If the Dominican Republic fell into the hands of the Communists tomorrow, a similar play would be used there. Likewise, if South Viet Nam were taken over by the North Vietnamese government, which today is Communist-controlled, it would mean the end of the present government at Saigon.

Yet there are many so-called liberals in America who are willing to accuse their own government of imperialism, notwithstanding the fact that the objective of the United States is plainly designed to emancipate the peoples of the smaller nations who currently may be under Communist rule or who are being threatened with conquest through the intrigue of the Soviet regime.

The way by which the Moscow government administers a country as Poland is clear proof of what it is so often said that it isn't necessary for the Soviets to land troops in any Latin American country. Once the election machinery comes under the control of the Communist party system by infiltration within a country, there is no need for military action.

IT'S THIS KIND of strategy which deceives many gullible observers who seem to think that Communist infiltration is insignificant because the actual band of Communists may be small in size. They little realize that it doesn't take a large number of persons to form a ruling group and that, once a political party is established under Communist auspices, the discipline soon covers every worker in the factory and every peasant on the farm.

Thus, the Communist organization in Poland today is known as the United Workers Party which in turn dominates the United Peasant party and the Democratic party and in nearly all instances they have the same slate of candidates.

The so-called elections in Poland this week are a tragic reminder of the failure of the United Nations to take effective steps to remove the aggressors from the territory of peoples who once enjoyed self-determination and freedom.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The Rev. John F. Dimit, who served as pastor of the First Methodist Protestant Church here since 1909, was recalled for his 27th year.

W. A. Bennett was installed as exalted ruler of Wellsville Elks Lodge.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A petition bearing signatures of 20 east end residents requesting a playlot for that section was presented to Wellsville City Council.

The Civic Music Association welcomed Ralph E. Johnson, Fred Martell and Patrick J. O'Farrell as new members.

TEN YEARS AGO — A total of 5,829 high school and elementary students in Columbiana County, representing 19 schools, concluded classes.

Columbiana County 4-H Clubs had a record enrollment of 1,700 members, compared with 1,575 in 1954.

Today In History

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1944, the first units of the U.S. 5th and British 8th armies entered Rome. Most of the troops were held on the outskirts until the next day.

In 1888, New York State established electrocution as the death penalty.

In 1896, Henry Ford made the first successful trial run in his automobile.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt announced that his relations with Soviet Premier Josef Stalin were excellent.

Ten years ago—East German leader Walter Ulbricht reported that a conference at Warsaw, Poland, had set up a committee to coordinate policies of Communist nations from the Elbe River to the Pacific.

Five years ago—The State Department accused Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro of conducting an intense official campaign of slander against the United States.

The oldest authenticated age to which a human has ever lived is 113 years, 124 days, achieved by a French canadian, Pierre Joubert, who was born in Charlesbourg, Canada, on July 15, 1701, and died in Quebec on Nov. 16, 1814. His longevity was the subject of an official Canadian government investigation and the proof was conclusive.

He opposes it. Lindsay should be proud to run as a Republican, is the Goldwater view. "What he's saying is that in name he's a Republican but he doesn't want to be known as one," declared Sen. Goldwater to an interviewer.

This is the Republican party's key issue. It is between empiricists like Mr. Nixon who claim a political party exists to win and idealists who think it exists to uphold a particular point of view at any cost.

The issue is not simple. Political parties exist for both reasons—to uphold points of view and to win. But as many a battle-scarred politician has said, "If I don't win, I can't uphold anything."

It's Tough!

By Truman Twill

How many men have read a recent story about the requirements for being a big-shot executive and wondered, as I did, why they never made it?

The authority quoted is president of a business consulting firm that helps corporations find executives. He disarms the reader by acknowledging that many executives in the past reached the top by devious routes and shouldn't be there.

Then he passes on some hints about picking executives scientifically.

This is where puzzlement sets in among us potential executives whose sterling qualities are not being recognized. How can people be so blind?

The ideal big shot is lean, active and a hard competitor. OK. I am 25 pounds underweight, according to the charts, active as a squirrel in nutting season and played football seven years with no qualifications other than derring-do. Pow! Crunch!

The ideal executive is married, has children, has stayed put with the same company, does not live for the moment but plans ahead and has outside interests.

I am married, have children, stayed put, do not live for the moment but am planning ahead for retirement and am an indefatigable girl-watcher, raconteur, TV watcher, magazine reader, weekend farmer and willing to take up horseback riding if Jacqueline Kennedy asks me to go on a canter.

Nothing in the whole list of specifications finds me lacking.

I worked on summer jobs before I was 15. My family background was one of pride and no poverty. I was not a big man on campus in the sense of being deeply involved in good works and constructive projects.

If given a choice between reading a good book and watching TV or a sporting event, I'd choose the book — but it would have to be worth it.

I am conservative in dress. My neckties do not light up. I eschew loud patterns and freakish styles. I keep my heels in repair.

Infinite detail and pin-sorting bore me. I always see the big picture. I have a firm grasp of finance. I am a planner. I am a good listener. I am conscious of other people's problems, particularly of their shortcomings. All these things are important.

Despite qualities that would be as valuable as a lode of pure uranium to any prospector who knew what he was looking for, the talent scouts have passed me by.

There are millions like me — outstanding triumphs of civilization who could put the touch of genius on this era if given the opportunity.

But we bloom and waste our fragrance on the desert air while the talent scout goes on and on. We are the diamonds in the back yard that no one notices because all the talent scouts ever see in the back yard is the clothesline and the garbage can.

It's tough, ain't it, gents?

This 'n That

The world's tallest tower which was built before the television era is the Eiffel Tower, in Paris, France. Built for the Paris exhibition and completed in March of 1889, the tower was 984 feet three inches tall. This height now has been extended to 1,052 feet by a TV antenna.

The greatest operation of forgery in history was that of the German Third Reich in 1940-41, which went under the code name of "Bernhard," and involved $420 million worth of Bank of England notes.

The only numeral which, when written out, has the same number of letters as its meaning is "four."

U.S. Reds Plan 1966 Convention

By Victor Riesel

There have been several secret meetings of American Communist leaders at New York City in the last few months. And after contentedly recounting their new financial resources, their ability to attract thousands to their big city rallies, their massive distribution of literature and their increased membership—they can say accurately that reports in the "far-out leftwing" of the death of the Communist Party, USA are grossly exaggerated.

Victor Riesel

In fact, the party under its new security system has so revitalized itself, it now plans to run a national convention. It has not held such a public gathering of its rank and file officialdom since 1959.

The national Communist party congress originally was scheduled for this winter. But recently Communist—chauffeur-driven—leader Gus Hall summoned some 55 regional officials to New York City. They discussed tactics and decided to postpone their convention until early 1966—an election year.

THE REGIONAL PARTY functionaries were briefed on the international battles and ideological conflicts between Moscow and Peiping. The 55 national committee people were told to return to their districts and get to drafting policy documents and preparing recommendations for the agenda. They also were instructed to ready "progress reports" in their districts.

At the first of this year's secret Communist conferences Gus Hall outlined the movement's basic strategy. Until Nov. 3, 1964, he said at a gathering in February, the organization's entire strength had been aimed at defeating the forces of Barry Goldwater. Now the Communist apparatus has just been shifted to exerting mass pressure to change the course of President Johnson's foreign policy.

There also has been the blueprint of national membership drives. This campaign will be as subtle as Sonny Liston's idyll on canvas. The Communist recruiting campaign calls for concentration of organizers in California to double the membership there.

IT PLANS to zero in on the defense production center of Baltimore; the auto industry in Detroit; the railroad yards in Chicago; the steel belt swinging out of Pittsburgh and the minority communities in the huge Eastern population centers.

This will mean concentration on the labor movement. There has been insufficient action in the Communist labor "clubs" and cells and this has disturbed the national party leadership. They feel they've made "exhilarating" progress among the university youth but not among the working class youth.

They also believe that they can recoup their strength among older workers in areas where the Communists once had considerable strength—which means the big Midwest industrial cities.

Therefore, the best guess is that the Communists will run their 1966 national convention in Chicago. The last one was held in Harlem.

This re-infiltration of labor, on which can be based industrial and political activity, will be operated openly.

IT WAS FBI director, J. Edgar Hoover who predicted the party would go public.

"In the belief that the 'climate' in the U.S. is changing rapidly in its favor," explained Mr. Hoover recently, "the Communist Party, USA, is beginning to open the veil of secrecy that has surrounded it since June 1961. . . a new party program is in preparation. . . ."

There are those who disagree sharply with Mr. Hoover over the political and intellectual and industrial potential of the Communist party.

But there is no doubt that the Communist movement now is heavily financed and that when its leaders meet in secrecy they talk of having more than 10,000 clandestinely registered members—and boast of definite knowledge of another 90,000 on whom they can count for ideological comradeship.

If so, the Soviet Union does have a formidable political force as its opinion-making front runner inside the U.S.A.

White House Fights Lindsay

By Andrew J. Glass

The White House has assigned the highest political priority to crushing John Lindsay's bid to become mayor of New York City.

Although the New York election is still more than five months away, top Democratic circles in Washington have reacted to the Lindsay challenge with extra-ordinary interest.

The initial reaction of highly-placed Democrats to Mayor Robert F. Wagner's professed reluctance to run for a fourth term was that it might be a shrewd political maneuver designed to grasp the offensive from Lindsay.

In any event the mayor's move has not disarmed knowledgeable Democrats. "Lindsay must be defeated," one of the most influential political figures in the Johnson administration told a friend.

The alarm bells were ringing in Washington even before the mayor's declaration that he might not run. These were two of the reasons:

In light of lagging Republican fortunes, a Lindsay victory could immediately propel the 43-year-old congressman, a vote-getter of proven potency, into the front ranks of the party And, in Democratic eyes, this would put him in contention for a place on the GOP national ticket in 1968.

All in all, the Kennedy forces and Lindsay could thus profit greatly at the expense of Lyndon Johnson.

Before citing personal reasons for his possible withdrawal, Wagner and others studied recent polls and reports that placed his popularity with the New York electorate at an all-time low for him. The mayor, apparently has acquired a bland, an even tired, image after spending 12 years in office trying to cope with the city's vast problems.

Lindsay, on the other hand, exudes precisely the kind of vigor that the mayor lacks.

While he is extremely popular among his "silk stocking" largely Democratic-oriented constituents, he remains almost unknown on the streets of Harlem and Brooklyn.

Therefore, the Democratic forces will make a maximum effort to pin a national Republican label on the challenger. And Lindsay, just as surely, will resist identification with the GOP as he has already indicated.

Should the Lindsay campaign catch on with the voters, the White House must make a series of complex political judgments over how much and what kind of aid should be sent to beat back his challenge. Should, for example, Vice President Humphrey be dispatched to campaign by the side of the Democratic candidate?

This type of effort in a local race holds inherent dangers, even when the contest carries profound national overtones. Lindsay is certain to try to exploit any overt White House thrust against his candidacy.

A Tragic Reminder

By David Lawrence

Polish Vote Reflects U.N. Failure

For several months the impression has been conveyed to the people of the United States that somehow or other the satellite states in Eastern Europe now are being given more and more freedom and are being subjected less and less to Communist dictatorship. Facts which came out in the open this week show how mistaken such an impression really is. What are those facts?

David Lawrence

1. While about 18.5 million people voted in the national elections in Poland for parliamentary and local government candidates, there was no opposition party. The Communists dominated the single party whose candidates were on the ballot.

2. Although the voting was said to be not compulsory, it was considered unwise to abstain. More than 90 per cent of the electorate turned out to vote. This is evidence of how well disciplined is the Communist organization.

3. Each of the 616 candidates for the 460 national parliament seats was pledged to support the Communist-drafted platform.

A dispatch from Warsaw by the United Press International, describing the elections, said that some curtained booths were provided for those voters who wished to strike out certain names where there was more than one candidate for the same post, but that few voters went into the booths. The dispatch added:

"Most voters considered the results were preordained and that making a public show of secret balloting would be a futile and perhaps ill-advised gesture."

THE COMMUNISTS have maintained complete power over the conduct of the five post-war elections which hav been held in 1947, 1952, 1957, 1961 and 1965. Thus, in a period of 18 years, there have been only five opportunities for the people to go through the form of voting. In each case, the Communist leaders have taken charge and no opportunity was given to cast votes for an opposition party.

By maintaining such complete control over the elections and by selecting candidates who are thoroughly indoctrinated with Communist ideology, the Soviets have no need today to station their troops in Poland or in any of the other satellites. Such is the recognition of Communist power and the effect of an involuntary acquiescence to it.

The Moscow government controls what is going on just as effectively as if it had military rule in each of the satellite countries. Indeed, civilian Communists are as thoroughly trained in how to maintain discipline as any army could be.

What occurred in Poland this week is a sample not only of what happens in the other Communist-bloc countries in Eastern Europe but of what is planned for every country in Latin America in which the Communists today are seeking to take over the sovereign governments by an infiltration process.

CUBA IS a significant example of how the Communists work. They send to a country trained leaders who know how to pick out the officials to supervise the operations of the national as well as the local governments.

If the Dominican Republic fell into the hands of the Communists tomorrow, a similar play would be used there. Likewise, if South Viet Nam were taken over by the North Vietnamese government, which today is Communist-controlled, it would mean the end of the present government at Saigon.

Yet there are many so-called liberals in America who are willing to accuse their own government of imperialism, notwithstanding the fact that the objective of the United States is plainly designed to emancipate the peoples of the smaller nations who currently may be under Communist rule or who are being threatened with conquest through the intrigue of the Soviet regime.

The way by which the Moscow government administers a country as Poland is clear proof of what it is so often said that it isn't necessary for the Soviets to land troops in any Latin American country. Once the election machinery comes under the control of the Communist party system by infiltration within a country, there is no need for military action.

IT'S THIS KIND of strategy which deceives many gullible observers who seem to think that Communist infiltration is insignificant because the actual band of Communists may be small in size. They little realize that it doesn't take a large number of persons to form a ruling group and that, once a political party is established under Communist auspices, the discipline soon covers every worker in the factory and every peasant on the farm.

Thus, the Communist organization in Poland today is known as the United Workers Party which in turn dominates the United Peasant party and the Democratic party and in nearly all instances they have the same slate of candidates.

The so-called elections in Poland this week are a tragic reminder of the failure of the United Nations to take effective steps to remove the aggressors from the territory of peoples who once enjoyed self-determination and freedom.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1944, the first units of the U.S. 5th and British 8th armies entered Rome. Most of the troops were held on the outskirts until the next day.

In 1888, New York State established electrocution as the death penalty.

In 1896, Henry Ford made the first successful trial run in his automobile.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt announced that his relations with Soviet Premier Josef Stalin were excellent.

Ten years ago—East German leader Walter Ulbricht reported that a conference at Warsaw, Poland, had set up a committee to coordinate policies of Communist nations from the Elbe River to the Pacific.

Five years ago—The State Department accused Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro of conducting an intense official campaign of slander against the United States.

The oldest authenticated age to which a human has ever lived is 113 years, 124 days, achieved by a French canadian, Pierre Joubert, who was born in Charlesbourg, Canada, on July 15, 1701, and died in Quebec on Nov. 16, 1814. His longevity was the subject of an official Canadian government investigation and the proof was conclusive.

Teachers Press Drive For Salary Increases

A resolution to improve the salary structure of East Liverpool schools to place the district in a more favorable competitive position was approved at a special meeting of the East Liverpool Teachers Association Thursday afternoon at Westgate School auditorium.

Approximately 150 classroom teachers and principals voted almost unanimously in favor of the resolution after hearing Atty. John Murphy of Kent, a field representative of the Ohio Education Association, who surveyed the district's financial situation and made recommendations.

A levy of 2.5 to 3.5 mills would be "a substantial step" toward the district becoming more competitive, Murphy's report estimated.

The resolution did not estimate the amount of money needed, but said the ELTA recognized that additional funds must be obtained. The resolution read:

"An examination of the salary schedule. . .reveals that salaries currently being paid to certificated employes are considerably less than those being paid in similar districts nearby and throughout the state, and

"The current salary schedule does not provide sufficient incentive to either attract fully qualified new teachers. . .or to retain those already employed, therefore, be it resolved

"That the ELTA will give full support to any efforts made by the Board of Education and the citizens of the school district to improve the salary structure. The ELTA is fully cognizant that existing revenues are insufficient for this purpose, and that additional funds must be secured."

Slightly more than two mills would be needed to provide an average increase of $500 per teacher. To raise 1965-66 minimum salaries to a more competitive level (bachelor's minimum $5,000, master's minimum $5,250) and to raise other salaries proportionately (bachelor's maximum $7,100, master's maximum $7,550) would require at least 3.3 mills for the basic salary schedule, the resolution continued.

The teachers' salary schedule is lagging seriously behind other Ohio cities, Murphy reported to the ELTA.

In 1955-56, beginning salaries in the district were about $120-$130 below the typical district, but now are $400-$500 lower. The same worsening situation exists in maximum salaries. In 1960-61, East Liverpool maximums were within $340-$460 of the typical city, but now lag $700-$1,050 behind, he said.

Among 10 "geographically competitive" districts, East Liverpool has the largest enrollment, but ranks sixth in valuation per pupil and in the minimum and maximum for teachers with bachelor degrees and in the minimum for those with master's degrees and rates fifth in the maximum salary for those with master's degrees and rates fifth in the maximum salary for those with master's degrees, he reported.

Austen B. Moore, president, said passage of the resolution culminates many weeks of work by the ELTA officers and salary committee.

A mass meeting of teachers with the school board was held May 17 when the ELTA pressed its pleas for increases and promised to aid the board in any way possible.

Arfman Fines And Jails Area Woman In Hit-Skip

A Glenmoor area woman cited on three counts following a recent Substation traffic mishap and three district drivers charged with drunken driving were fined and jailed by County Judge Herbert Arfman at Lisbon Thursday.

Blanch Ravelli of the Y. & O. Rd. was cited for driving left of center, leaving the scene of an accident and resisting an officer following the collision at the intersection of the Y. & L. Rd. and Route 30.

Arfman yesterday fined her $50 and costs and sentenced her to 90 days in jail for leaving the scene and suspended her license for three months. She also was fined $20 and costs and given a 30-day term for resisting an officer and fined $15 and costs for failure to yield.

Artis Hurst Jr. of Annesley Rd. was fined $150 and costs and sentenced to four days in jail for drunken driving. He also was placed on one-year probation and given a six-month license suspension.

Roy Ellsworth Gamble of Hammond Park Addition, Wellsville, was fined $100 and costs and given three days in jail for driving while intoxicated.

Joan Ann Zimmerman of 608 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, was fined $100 and costs and given three days in jail for drunken driving.

Sheri Lynn Lynch of East Liverpool R. D. 3 and Robert B. McKinney of Wellsville R. D. 1 were fined $15 and costs for speeding.

Thomas Shields of East Liverpool R. D. 2 was fined $15 and costs for lack of mud flaps.

Ralph W. Smith of Melborne St., Glenmoor, was fined $20 and costs for reckless operation and $10 and costs for failure to file for registration.

Donald M. Parvin of 327 W. 9th St. was fined $5 and costs for an unsafe vehicle.

Gary Marcus Barnett of 1844 Lisbon St. was fined $20 and costs for speeding.

Earl S. Roberts of 1460 Howell Rd., East Palestine, was fined $15 and costs for failure to obey traffic signal.

Richard Vincent of Glenmoor was fined $15 and costs for failure to yield the right of way.

New Officers Selected For Health Group

Mrs. Michael Rodak was elected president of the Hancock-Brooke Mental Health Society at a meeting of the group Thursday night at Weirton General Hospital.

Serving with Mrs. Rodak during the coming year will be Mrs. John L. Sullivan, first vice president; Victor Greco, second vice president; Mrs. John Griffin, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Endry, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Basil Mangano, financial secretary, and Mrs. Lowell Austin, treasurer.

Presentation of a new constitution and bylaws was discussed.

Mrs. E. M. Clubb, retiring president, announced the success of the fund drive, which now has exceeded the goal by over 47 per cent, the present receipts totaling $4,396.55.

Mrs. Clubb expressed her appreciation for the assistance and cooperation which she received during her two terms of office.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I make the chore of scaling fish easier?

A.—Place the fish in a large pan, pour boiling water over it, then remove from the hot water quickly and drop into cold water. The scales can easily be scraped off with a kitchen knife or by rubbing with a metal pot cleaner. And sometimes just the rubbing of vinegar all over the fish beforehand will make for easier scaling.

Q.—How can I remove water stains from some of my furniture?

A.—With hot vinegar. Rub over the spots, dry, then polish with furniture polish or linseed oil. To remove water spots from varnished furniture, use ammonia water, followed by furniture polish.

Q. — How can I renew the gleam of my costume jewelry?

A. — You can make this jewelry sparkle like new if you'll soak it for an hour in hot water and ammonia (half and half). Then dry it well.

Q. — What can I do about candy stains on clothing?

A. — Candy stains — all except chocolate — will yield to hot water. For chocolate, use cleaning fluid — or peroxide if the fabric is white.

Q. How can I clean wicker furniture?

A. — By scrubbing with a not-too-hard brush and lukewarm sudsy water. To rinse it, put the furniture out on the lawn and turn the hose on it.

Q.—How can I discourage the invasions of ants into my household?

A.—For some reason or other, ants hate cucumber skin. Keep bits of this around their usual haunts—and they'll scram!

Q.—How can I preserve valuable documents that I am storing away?

County Home's Staff Put On 40-Hour Week

LISBON — A 40-hour work week has been established for all County Home employes, with overtime pay or compensating time off for any additional hours.

At present, the home employes are paid a monthly salary, regardless of the number of hours worked. Under the change, they still will receive the same salary, but will be required to work only the 40 hours.

In other business, two new 20-passenger International school buses were ordered purchased for the Retarded Children's School at Elkton from the O. S. Hill Co., Inc., of East Liverpool on a low bid of $9,000, with trade-in of two 1962 Corvair wagons. The other bidder was Davidson Sales and Service of Salem. Its bid, with trade-ins, was $9,190. Delivery by September is expected.

The city of Wellsville was given $56 from the kennel fund for 112 dogs destroyed during May.

Travel allowances were awarded the following:

Brian Cox, county draftsman, $10 to go to New Philadelphia last Wednesday to discuss Project 272-64 on the Pigeon Rd., south of Salem.

Donald Roberts, psychiatric social worker at the Mental Health Clinic, $100 to attend the Ohio Mental Health Association meeting at Cincinnati May 23-25.

Frank Wilson, president of the commissioners, $45 to attend a meeting today in Columbus on House Bill 746. The bill would give state welfare officials more power in local welfare offices.

Carl Stacey, clerk of courts, $60 to attend the Ohio Clerk of Courts annual summer meeting in Youngstown.

The commissioners' next regular meeting will be Monday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Going Home From Court, Driver Cited On Charges

A 20-year-old district youth en route home from an East Palestine court appearance in which his operator's permit was suspended had another brush with the law Thursday night and wound up with two more citations—including one for driving after his license had been suspended.

Roland F. Rice of Wellsville R.D. 1, fresh from a traffic case before County Judge Herbert E. Arfman, also was cited by the State Highway Patrol on charges of driving 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Represented by Atty. G. William Brokaw, Rice was granted a continuance until Wednesday when he appeared this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

He was cited at 8:45 last night by the patrol as he pulled away from a frozen custard stand in the East End of Wellsville. Rice's counsel told the court the youth is employed as a construction worker in Weirton and is due to take a physical examination for the armed forces on June 23.

Patrolman R. L. Reed reported he halted Rice after clocking him on the four-lane road. He said the youth first reported his name was "Gary Whitla" and said he had left his operator's license at home. When the officer began to fill out the arrest form, Rice said he had been before Judge Arfman in East Palestine at 6 last night and had been given a seven-day suspension of his operator's permit and fined $20 costs for failure to stop at an intersection, the patrolman said. The officer said the youth had been arrested on prior occasions on charges of speeding, crashing a stop sign and operating an auto with smooth tires.

Six motorists cited in a police radar speed check Thursday afternoon in a 25-mile speed zone on St. George St. were fined $10 and costs each today after entering "no contest" pleas.

The motorists were identified as: Salvatore Tomaine of N. Shady Ln. Dr.; Cecil Cook of Glenmoor; John Jeffries, 1218 Erie St.; Miss Evelyn Palmer of R.D. 3, and John H. Quick, 723 Cain St. All were cited by Patrolman Charles A. Winters between 12:55 and 1:50.

Paul Berman, 321 W. 9th St., also cited in the East End check, is scheduled for a hearing Tuesday at 11 a.m. He was accused of driving 32 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

Walter Cross, 20, of 1719 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, cited by the patrol Thursday at 8:55 p. m. on a charge of speeding more than 80 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone, is due for a hearing Friday, June 11, at 9 a.m. He was cited on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Rockford C. Hardman of Youngstown, charged with making a U-turn Saturday on W. 8th St. at Jefferson St., was fined $10 and costs. He pleaded guilty.

Erasmo Macarelli of the YMCA, accused of failure to stop in the assured clear distance following a traffic mishap on the Diamond about two weeks ago, was convicted after a hearing and fined $25 and costs. The court suspended the fine on payment of the costs.

Bipartisan Apportion Plan To Be Introduced

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohio House members will introduce Monday what they call "the first bipartisan reapportionment plan" to be offered in the legislature.

Reps. John C. McDonald, D-Licking, and Charles E. Fry, R-Clark, said Thursday the plan is designed to overcome objections to the recently defeated ballot proposal but at the same time to meet the U.S. Supreme Court's "one-man,' one-vote" decree.

The plan, briefly, would retain the 69,000 population requirement for one House member and combine counties having less than that amount into districts of about 69,000.

Bill Would Aid Aged On Real Estate Taxes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state senator from Butler County has offered a proposal he says will alleviate the real estate tax burden on Ohio's elderly citizens.

Sen. Charles H. Jones, R-Butler, introduced the proposal Thursday and said it allows persons over 65 to apply annually for deferment of taxes on their homes.

The deferment, when granted, would become a real estate lien on the property to be collected when the property no longer is used by the elderly citizen, Jones said.

Ohio Senate Gets Rhodes' Appointments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate has received 13 appointments by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes, including that of Democratic Turnpike Commsisioner James W. Shocknessy as a trustee of Ohio State University.

Major Republicans referred all the appointments, including those of Shocknessy, one other Democrat and 11 Republicans, to the Rules Committee. The action virtually assured confirmation.

The other Democratic appointment was that of William C. Safford of Cincinnati as a member of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's Advisory Council.

Two Republicans were named to the State Racing Commission. They are Lawrence A. Ramey of Columbus and Russell F. Wetzel of Hamilton.

The other Republican appointments:

Wendell R. Larue, Akron, to the Ohio Water Commission.

Audrey N. Prentice, Canton, to the Development Advisory Board.

Grange Unit Sets Monday Banquet

LISBON — Columbiana County Seventh Degree DeMeter Club members will meet for the annual session at the Mt. Nebo Grange Hall on Route 45 between Salem and Lisbon Monday, beginning with a banquet at 7:30 p.m.

The main speaker will be Clarence Means, principal of Toronto High School.

Music will be furnished by Allen Howenstine and a male quartet, "The Kings Men," from Alliance.

Minerva Man Fined

LISBON — James Cooper Gorby, 42, of Minerva R.D. 2 was fined $200 and costs Thursday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a 17-year-old boy. A six-month County Jail term was suspended. The court ordered Gorby to stay out of places where intoxicants are sold, not to associate with any child under 18 and be of general good behavior.

In Virgin Islands

First Lady Gives Talk At College Graduation

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, St. Thomas, V.I. (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson told a racially mixed audience Thursday night that the Virgin Islands for more than 100 years has proved "that equality can be a congenial way of life."

Although Mrs. Johnson's speech was directed primarily toward encouraging the students to put their knowledge to work "in your own backyard," the reference to equality was the one that drew the biggest response.

The First Lady, combining official appearances and a rest in the sun during her five-day visit, also found herself enlisted as a political emissary.

John I. Maduro, a Democratic member of the Virgin Islands Senate and another commencement speaker, asked her to intercede with the President to promote more home rule for this tiny American island territory. He asked Mrs. Johnson to boost a longtime local campaign for an elected governor and an elected, nonvoting resident commissioner or delegate in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Mrs. Johnson said later: "I don't know enough about it."

Mrs. Johnson's appearance was hailed as an unprecedented honor for the tiny island. An estimated 3,000 islanders turned out to hear her and to queue up for more than an hour to shake her hand at a reception.

Mrs. Johnson is continuing her vacation on nearby St. John Island, a spot of white sandy beaches and tropic greenery preserved by the Rockefeller family and presented to the government as a national park.

Exercises Set Tonight For Seniors At Lisbon

Boy's Unhurt As He Dashes In Car's Path

A 3-year-old boy escaped injury when he struck the side of a moving car as he dashed into Mulberry St. Thursday afternoon, police reported.

David Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, bumped the 1965 sedan of Roy R. Black, 54, of 1651 Cleveland Ave. about 1:20 p.m. yesterday as Black drove north on the East End street, officers said.

The boy and his parents were taken to a physician's office, where the child was found to be uninjured, officers reported.

Black told police he saw the youngster dart into the street from between two parked cars. The motorist said he halted and the child stopped, retracing his steps toward the curb. Black said when he began to proceed again the child darted into the street a second time, running into the side of his car.

An East Palestine youth's car was damaged in a hit-skip collision Thursday at 10:56 p.m. on Dresden Ave. at W. 7th St.

Gary Lee Knight said he was driving north on Dresden about 15 miles an hour when an oncoming car traveling on the wrong side of the street hit his auto and continued south at a high rate of speed.

Knight and two witnesses gave police a partial description of the hit-skip car and its license number.

The collision damaged the left front fender, headlights, bumper and rear view mirror of Knight's car, police said.

One of the first attempts at forest conservation in America was made in the late 1600's when William Penn decreed in his Pennsylvania colony that one acre of forest should be left standing for every five acres of land that were to be cleared.

Total Posted In Sclerosis Fund Appeal

A total of $2,700 has been contributed to the multiple sclerosis fund drive in the Wellsville, East Liverpool and East Palestine areas.

Of the amount, $1,900 was collected in the Wellsville - East Liverpool area and $800 in the East Palestine area. The goal was $3,000.

Sixty per cent will remain for patient aid locally and 40 percent will be used for research nationally. Anyone seeking help from the MS may call Marion Perkins, East Liverpool area chairman, 386-5906.

Captains assisting in the East Liverpool vicinity drive were: Mrs. Myrna Crawford, Mrs. JoAnne Hilyard, Mrs. Dort Evens, Miss Suzzettee Beaver, Mrs. Thelma Andrews, Mrs. Charles Lovell, Mrs. Mildred Perkins, Mrs. Lawrence Dailey, Mrs. Kenneth Calhoun, Mrs. Martha Sanford, Mrs. Christina Green, Mrs. Doris Allen, Mrs. Ora Peterlin, Mrs. Olive Keener, Mrs. Esther Gill, Mrs. Kay Blankenship and Mrs. Thomas Doland.

Mrs. Walter Carroll, Wellsville chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Paul LaScola, Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Mrs. Edwin Broderick, Mrs. Thomas Broderick, Mrs. William Cataldo, Mrs. Harold Congrove, Mrs. Henry Gooch, Mrs. Clyde Hurd, Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. William Stroble, Mrs. William Shoub, Mrs. Charles Sanfilippo and Mrs. Marlene Corbisello.

Other chairmen were: Mrs. Marge Davis, Irondale; Mrs. Gary Hogue, Salineville, and Mrs. Gale Stewart, East Palestine.

More contributions are expected to boost the total contributions, drive officials said.

Inspection Held At Grange Event

The yearly inspection by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schneider, Jefferson County deputies, was conducted when Brush Creek Grange 1915 of the Hammondsville-Salineville area met Wednesday night.

Robert Lawrence, master, presided during the business session when a contribution was made to CARE for West Pakistan and bills were ordered paid.

Mrs. Robert Lawrence, acting lecturer, was in charge of the program, with the theme "The Grange."

The program included: Welcome song; roll call response with "What the Grange Means to Me;" poem, "Getting Ready for Grange" and a reading, "Facts About the Grange," Doris Russell; relaxer exercise conducted by Lawrence; poem, "Fraternity," Mildred Carman; reading, "I Am the Grange," Martha Burgett.

Plans were launched for a membership drive.

Gifts of fountain pens were presented to the Schneiders.

The program closed with the reading of the grange "Ten Commandments" and the singing of the "Parting Hymn."

Refreshments were served by the home economics committee.

The next meeting will be June 16 when 25- and 50-year members will be honored. Brush Creek will play host to the Pleasant Hill Grange, with the meeting open to the public.

Wellsburg Youth, 20, Killed In Rt. 2 Wreck

WEIRTON — Kenneth Stock, 20, of Wellsburg was killed today in a traffic accident about two miles south of here.

Authorities said the victim's car went out of control and crashed at a place on W. Va. 2 known as dead man's curve.

cated he will "go to the wire" to oppose any further reduction in the performance bond proposed in his bill. The bill called originally for an increase to $500 per acre, a feature that was watered down along with several others when the Senate Agriculture and Conservation Committee adopted 71 coal industry amendments.

A key factor in Senate approval of Sargus' bill and his amendments to restore some of its teeth was the fact that the St. Clairsville Democrat was able to attract utility company support for the measure.

The utilities, which had sided with the coal industry when Sargus first introduced a stringent bill, are expected to help him shepherd the measure through the House.

Thursday's Senate victory probably was the biggest of Sargus' legislative career. It came after nearly five months of continuous fighting for the bill.

Sargus warned the strip mine industry during his presentation of the bill that "you've got to keep faith with what this bill requires or an aroused public will rise up in vengeful wrath."

Borrowing a Cadiz editor's paraphrase of Rhodes' favorite slogan, "Profit is not a dirty word in Ohio," Sargus vowed to press for enactment of the bill on the premise that "profit without conscience is a dirty word in Ohio."

MAYO CLINIC

Q. For how long has the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., been in operation?

A. Dr. Wm. W. Mayo opened his office in Rochester 100 years ago. However, the development of what is now the Mayo Clinic did not begin until Dr. Mayo's two sons, known until their death in 1939 as Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie, joined their father in practice. Today, the Mayo Clinic draws an average of 1,000 patients a day, many of whom travel long distances in the hope of obtaining relief.

"THE PILL" AND ARTHRITIS

Q. I have read that pills used for contraception are effective in arthritis. Would it be safe for a 43-year-old woman to take such pills? I have had arthritis for several years.

A. Safe, perhaps, but not necessarily justified. The claim that an oral contraceptive produced excellent results in arthritis was apparently made on the basis of six cases. Doctors at the New York University School of Medicine made a careful study of a number of arthritic patients treated in this manner and concluded that "the pill" was of little value.

"THE PILL" AND ARTHRITIS
Q. I have read that pills used for contraception are effective in arthritis. Would it be safe for a 43-year-old woman to take such pills? I have had arthritis for several years.
A. Safe, perhaps, but not necessarily justified. The claim that an oral contraceptive produced excellent results in arthritis was apparently made on the basis of six cases. Doctors at the New York University School of Medicine made a careful study of a number of arthritic patients treated in this manner and concluded that "the pill" was of little value.

Lodge Advances Carnival's Plans

Final plans were made for the forthcoming Odd Fellows carnival when Pennova Lodge 880 met Thursday night at the lodge home.

Ray Stillwell, chairman, reported on advance ticket sales for the benefit event, which will begin Monday in the Thorofare parking lot in East End. He said one-half-price ride tickets are moving fast and will continue on sale through Monday.

Rides will be furnished by Heck's Amusement Co. Anyone interested in purchasing tickets may see Stanley Kidder or any lodge member.

Ohio City Rebekah Lodge 782 will have charge of the cook tent, where baked goods and candy will be on sale.

It was reported eight cemeteries were visited Memorial Day when IOOF memorial flags were placed on graves of deceased members.

Rogers Resident Visits Daughter

Mrs. Ellen Smith of Rogers is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Viola Wasco of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Emma Harter of Youngstown has concluded a visit with Mrs. Sylvia Raley.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cope of Salem visited Sunday with Mrs. Florence Bable.

Mrs. Elmer Griffith has concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Black of New Waterford.

When a person is ordered to appear at a certain place on a certain day as a witness he or she receives a subpoena.

Chamber To Get Data On Election

A tellers' committee will report election results at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at 4 p.m.

The committee will list the names of seven named to the board from a field of 14 in the annual election conducted in May by mail. The newly-elected trustees will be sworn into office and the board then will elect officers for 1965-66.

Terms of the officers and trustees will begin on July 1. In a constitutional change approved by the membership late in 1964, the Chamber began operating on a fiscal year that stretches from July 1 to June 30. It previously conducted its affairs on a calendar year basis, electing officers late in the fall.

There is gold in sea water, roughly estimated at about $3,800 worth in every cubic kilometer of water. It's the economical extraction of the gold from the water, however, that faces our scientists today.

Pvt. Abdalla Honored As Colonel's Orderly

Pvt. Frederick J. Abdalla of Stratton was selected the "Colonel's Orderly" in May while serving at the Army Training Center, Armor, at Ft. Knox, Ky.

The selection is based on possessing "the smartest military appearance and having the greatest knowledge of his general and special guard orders."

Pvt. Abdalla received special recognition from his company and was commended personally by Col. Donald A. Kersting, 3rd Brigade commander.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Overeating Goes With Underexercising

Overweight teens and pre - teens who eat "just to be doing something," tune in. You admit ruefully that you are not popular because you are too fat. Ashamed of your size, you do not get into activities. This can become a vicious circle—not "in things" because you are heavy, bored because you are not active, and eating from sheer boredom.

Ida Jean Kain

What to do? Take action in the form of physical exercise and exert the effort to get into activities. Both are needed. To begin with, overeating seems to go with underexercising. Without enough exercise, you feel lethargic and logy instead of peppy and purposeful. Exercise can spark your energy and your interest. You come alive.

TO GET IN the groove, set a definite time for shape - ups, perhaps right after school. It's fun to exercise to music, but when you execute an exercise movement, think about what you are trying to do. If it's to slim the hips, get those big hip muscles into the action. Grab hold of a chair back with left hand, then swing with right leg. . . swing forward, then away back, not free and easy, but with muscles taut. On the second swing rearward, hold. Holding the muscle contraction to a slow count of six increases tone. In taking stretch - sidebends, direct the action through the middle measurement. P-u-l-l.

Resolve — this very week — to take the initiative and get into some kind of activity with others your age. If anyone pokes fun at your size, don't get mad. If you can laugh right along with them, you won't bottle up resentment. A sense of humor can take away embarrassment. When you make the effort to start, you get the ball rolling, then other opportunities stem from this start. So ACT!

ON THE weight score: Get over the idea that you must go on some faddy fare in order to reduce. You write that your mother won't let you "diet." She won't object to your cutting out the "junk" calories. All you have to do to reduce is to stop overeating. At the finish of the main course, pull your belt a notch tighter and walk away from the table.

After school you will feel starved. Treat yourself to a big, juicy apple, a hard - cooked egg with some celery, or a slice of bread, lightly buttered. No sweets!

When you feel the urge to "eat like crazy," because you haven't anything inteesting to do, pull up short and say to yourself: "I'm not going to booby - trap myself that way!"

Then whip into shape - ups. Start. . .you'll finish feeling alive and alert instead of bored. Eating for diversion can quickly turn into a false hunger habit. Put a good habit in its place. . .stretch - bend - swings. You'll be the winner!

Well, are you a girl with gumption, or aren't you?

Data On Housing Given At Senior Citizens Meeting

More reports on low - cost housing programs were presented Thursday afternoon when the Senior Citizens group met at St. Stephen's Parish House.

Ollie Campbell, vice president, told of a trip to Columbus May 28 with Mayor Merrill D. Hall when the Ohio Housing Authority held a hearing on an application by county commissioners for establishment of a Metropolitan Housing Authority to serve Columbiana County. Harry Davis reported on low-cost housing in Cleveland. Campbell said another meeting on the housing program will be held Thursday at 8:30 p. m. in David Anderson High School at Lisbon.

The Rev. John Clark of the First Methodist Church invited the members to worship in a group at his church on June 20. Rudy Halpate and Mrs. Eunice Hogenfeld asked aid in a rummage sale the group will sponsor, beginning Monday, at the Halpate Building in East End. Jack Barrestt, president, conducted business. Monthly reports were presented. Campbell took group photographs. The program ended with a songfest.

Mrs. Daisy Richmond and her committee served refreshments to 148, including five guests. The next meeting will be Thursday at 1 p. m.

Clarkson Grange Sets 'Rural Life' Program Sunday

The Rev. Robert I. Moore of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church will present the benediction and prayer during a "Rural Life Sunday" program of the Clarkson Grange at 2 p. m. at the Grange Hall.

Miss Zoe Thomas will screen slides and discuss a trip to Europe. The Rogerettes Three 4-H Club will present a program.

A coverdish dinner will be held at 1 p. m.

Mrs. June Elliott is lecturer.

Fifteen attended a meeting of the Women's Association of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church Tuesday night with Mrs. Mildred Hole.

A discussion was held on "Deity of Christ." Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kathryn Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Marie George and Mrs. Edith Thompson.

Bible School Officials Set At Anderson

Supervising officials have been named for the Daily Vacation Bible School of the Calcutta Anderson Methodist Church June 7-11 and June 14-18.

Mrs. May Hall is director, Miss Nancy Hall secretary, Mrs. Thelma Hamilton song leader, Mrs. Nancy Hornick pianist and Mrs. Judy Hall in charge of the missionary story.

Other department leaders include:

Nursery — Mrs. Jean Madison, Mrs. Beryldene Bertschy and Mrs. Hornick.

The school will be sponsored by the Sunday Church School, with sessions to be held nightly from 7 to 9.

The closing program will take place Sunday morning, June 20, at 10.

The theme of the school will be "My Saviour Teaches Me." Bus service will be available each evening, with buses leaving the Diamond at 6:30 p. m. and following the same route as Sunday morning. The return trip will be made at 9.

The Rev. George H. Johnston, minister of the church, is serving as over-all supervisor for the school.

School Crossing Gate Struck By Auto Of Man, 76

Police filed a belated report Thursday on an incident in which a crosswalk gate on Lisbon St. at Pleasant Heights School was damaged Wednesday afternoon when hit by a 76-year-old man's auto.

Officers said the gate was hit by a southbound auto operated by B. H. Crawford of Glenmoor. Data on the mishap also was supplied by Mrs. Mildred Butler, 1864 Lisbon St., adult crossing guard, and Charles Caton, 1962 Lisbon St., a school patrol boy. The gate is near a four-way junction where two electric signals help control Lisbon St. traffic.

Mrs. Butler told Patrolman Charles A. Winters Crawford drove through a traffic light at moderate speed and struck the gate. Crawford said he noted the first of the two signals near the school was green but he did not know the color of the light nearest the gate because he was not looking at it.

He said he halted and looked back after his car hit the gate, but saw no damage, so he proceeded. He was contacted later by the officer.

Wheat Allotment Forms Available In Beaver Office

Glenn Campbell, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, advised today that farmers who wish to be considered for a "new wheat farm" allotment for 1966, a farm which did not participate in 1965, should contact the ASCS before July 1.

He explained producers eligible to file such applications "are those with a farm for which no wheat allotment has been established, who have no interest in the wheat allotment on any other farm, and where the farmer expects to receive more than 50 per cent of his income from total production on the farm."

Campbell said that forms for formal application for a "new farm" wheat allotment are available at the ASCS office, Room 209, in the federal building at Beaver.

Hopes Thousands Of Others Do, Too

Ohioan Plans Lively Time At His Funeral Sunday

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Gerald McKinney plans to have a lively time at his funeral Sunday.

He hopes several thousand others do, too.

McKinney, 42-year-old Springfield factory worker, has rented the fairgrounds here to stage his funeral while he's still alive. It'll be one day before the 68th anniversary of a similar funeral his great-grandfather had eight years before he died.

"I want my friends to give me roses while I'm alive instead of after I'm gone," said McKinney, who found the path less than rosy while trying to arrange his early funeral.

He encountered resistance from county officials—and from relatives who live in Portsmouth, where he was born.

McKinney's sister and ex-wife refused to have anything to do with his plans. County officials were reluctant to let him use the fairgrounds, until he got $100,000 worth of liability insurance.

He also had to promise there would be no commercialization —not even refreshments.

Portsmouth residents generally are paying little heed to McKinney's funeral. Many people, he said, "look at me like I'm some kind of nut." But a lot of curious folks, from Portsmouth and other places, are expected to be on hand to see McKinney stand beside a shiny new casket while musicians play and sing and a pastor preaches.

There has been no official estimate of how many "mourners" might turn out. But McKinney contends he has been given to understand the crowd might number 100,000.

McKinley has lined up 10 different musical groups to provide hymns and guitar and harmonica music.

White's Son Hears Of Dad's Walk, Strikes Out In Game

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Young Eddie White heard about his dad taking a solo stroll in space Wednesday, then the youngster went to a Little League baseball game and struck out his first turn at bat.

While her husband spun around the world more than 100 miles up, Mrs. Edward H. White spoke hopefully of a vacation in the Colorado Rockies.

"I hope to go somewhere with him," Mrs. White, an attractive blonde, told newsmen. "I think they'll give him some time off. If I have my way we'll go to Colorado."

Both Mrs. White and Mrs. McDivitt went through the tight security of the Manned Space Center to visit the Mission Control Center.

Smiling, but apparently weary, Mrs. McDivitt told newsmen: "We were all having a ball and still are."

Mrs. White said she wasn't frightened while her husband was outside the space vehicle and said she recognized his voice when he spoke during the space plunge.

"I could hear him laughing. I wasn't worried. I knew it would work out all okay," she said.

Her children, Mrs. White said, were so proud, "they could bust; they just don't know what to do."

Mrs. White, wearing a white dress and a blue jacket, and Mrs. McDivitt, her bright blue dress contrasting her dark hair, visited the control center shortly after White became the first American to walk in space. They stayed at the center for 45 minutes, but did not talk to their husbands on the communications facilities. Afterward, they returned home.

Assets In Private Pension Funds Increased $5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The assets of private pension funds increased by $5.4 billion last year to $51.9 billion, even though they paid out $1.7 billion in benefits.

Figured at their present market value, however, the value of the funds reached $63.4 billion.

Most of the funds cover corporation employes and many are administered by unions.

The figures were contained in an annual report released Thursday night by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Government Operations Committee reported Thursday it thinks Russia is "substantially ahead of us" in military uses of space.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Overeating Goes With Underexercising

Overweight teens and pre - teens who eat "just to be doing something," tune in. You admit ruefully that you are not popular because you are too fat. Ashamed of your size, you do not get into activities. This can become a vicious circle—not "in things" because you are heavy, bored because you are not active, and eating from sheer boredom.

Ida Jean Kain

What to do? Take action in the form of physical exercise and exert the effort to get into activities. Both are needed. To begin with, overeating seems to go with underexercising. Without enough exercise, you feel lethargic and logy instead of peppy and purposeful. Exercise can spark your energy and your interest. You come alive.

—:—

TO GET IN the groove, set a definite time for shape - ups, perhaps right after school. It's fun to exercise to music, but when you execute an exercise movement, think about what you are trying to do. If it's to slim the hips, get those big hip muscles into the action. Grab hold of a chair back with left hand, then swing with right leg. . . swing forward, then away back, not free and easy, but with muscles taut. On the second swing rearward, hold. Holding the muscle contraction to a slow count of six increases tone. In taking stretch - sidebends, direct the action through the middle measurement. P-u-l-l.

Resolve — this very week — to take the initiative and get into some kind of activity with others your age. If anyone pokes fun at your size, don't get mad. If you can laugh right along with them, you won't bottle up resentment. A sense of humor can take away embarrassment. When you make the effort to start, you get the ball rolling, then other opportunities stem from this start. So ACT!

ON THE weight score: Get over the idea that you must go on some faddy fare in order to reduce. You write that your mother won't let you "diet." She won't object to your cutting out the "junk" calories. All you have to do to reduce is to stop overeating. At the finish of the main course, pull your belt a notch tighter and walk away from the table.

After school you will feel starved. Treat yourself to a big, juicy apple, a hard - cooked egg with some celery, or a slice of bread, lightly buttered. No sweets!

When you feel the urge to "eat like crazy," because you haven't anything inteesting to do, pull up short and say to yourself: "I'm not going to booby - trap myself that way!"

Then whip into shape - ups. Start. . .you'll finish feeling alive and alert instead of bored. Eating for diversion can quickly turn into a false hunger habit. Put a good habit in its place. . .stretch - bend - swings. You'll be the winner!

Well, are you a girl with gumption, or aren't you?

Data On Housing Given At Senior Citizens Meeting

More reports on low - cost housing programs were presented Thursday afternoon when the Senior Citizens group met at St. Stephen's Parish House.

Ollie Campbell, vice president, told of a trip to Columbus May 28 with Mayor Merrill D. Hall when the Ohio Housing Authority held a hearing on an application by county commissioners for establishment of a Metropolitan Housing Authority to serve Columbiana County. Harry Davis reported on low-cost housing in Cleveland. Campbell said another meeting on the housing program will be held Thursday at 8:30 p. m. in David Anderson High School at Lisbon.

The Rev. John Clark of the First Methodist Church invited the members to worship in a group at his church on June 20. Rudy Halpate and Mrs. Eunice Hogenfeld asked aid in a rummage sale the group will sponsor, beginning Monday, at the Halpate Building in East End. Jack Barrestt, president, conducted business. Monthly reports were presented. Campbell took group photographs. The program ended with a songfest.

Mrs. Daisy Richmond and her committee served refreshments to 148, including five guests. The next meeting will be Thursday at 1 p. m.

Clarkson Grange Sets 'Rural Life' Program Sunday

The Rev. Robert I. Moore of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church will present the benediction and prayer during a "Rural Life Sunday" program of the Clarkson Grange at 2 p. m. at the Grange Hall.

Miss Zoe Thomas will screen slides and discuss a trip to Europe. The Rogerettes Three 4-H Club will present a program.

A coverdish dinner will be held at 1 p. m.

Mrs. June Elliott is lecturer.

Fifteen attended a meeting of the Women's Association of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church Tuesday night with Mrs. Mildred Hole.

A discussion was held on "Deity of Christ." Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kathryn Fitzsimmons. Mrs. Marie George and Mrs. Edith Thompson.

Bible School Officials Set At Anderson

Mrs. May Hall is director, Miss Nancy Hall secretary, Mrs. Thelma Hamilton song leader, Mrs. Nancy Hornick pianist and Mrs. Judy Hall in charge of the missionary story.

Other department leaders include:

Nursery — Mrs. Jean Madison, Mrs. Beryldene Bertschy and Mrs. Hornick.

The school will be sponsored by the Sunday Church School, with sessions to be held nightly from 7 to 9.

The closing program will take place Sunday morning, June 20, at 10.

The theme of the school will be "My Saviour Teaches Me." Bus service will be available each evening, with buses leaving the Diamond at 6:30 p. m. and following the same route as Sunday morning. The return trip will be made at 9.

The Rev. George H. Johnston, minister of the church, is serving as over-all supervisor for the school.

School Crossing Gate Struck By Auto Of Man, 76

Police filed a belated report Thursday on an incident in which a crosswalk gate on Lisbon St. at Pleasant Heights School was damaged Wednesday afternoon when hit by a 76-year-old man's auto.

Officers said the gate was hit by a southbound auto operated by B. H. Crawford of Glenmoor. Data on the mishap also was supplied by Mrs. Mildred Butler, 1864 Lisbon St., adult crossing guard, and Charles Caton, 1962 Lisbon St., a school patrol boy. The gate is near a four-way junction where two electric signals help control Lisbon St. traffic.

Mrs. Butler told Patrolman Charles A. Winters Crawford drove through a traffic light at moderate speed and struck the gate. Crawford said he noted the first of the two signals near the school was green but he did not know the color of the light nearest the gate because he was not looking at it.

He said he halted and looked back after his car hit the gate, but saw no damage, so he proceeded. He was contacted later by the officer.

Wheat Allotment Forms Available In Beaver Office

Glenn Campbell, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, advised today that farmers who wish to be considered for a "new wheat farm" allotment for 1966, a farm which did not participate in 1965, should contact the ASCS before July 1.

He explained producers eligible to file such applications "are those with a farm for which no wheat allotment has been established, who have no interest in the wheat allotment on any other farm, and where the farmer expects to receive more than 50 per cent of his income from total production on the farm."

Campbell said that forms for formal application for a "new farm" wheat allotment are available at the ASCS office, Room 209, in the federal building at Beaver.

Hopes Thousands Of Others Do, Too

Ohioan Plans Lively Time At His Funeral Sunday

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Gerald McKinney plans to have a lively time at his funeral Sunday.

He hopes several thousand others do, too.

McKinney, 42-year-old Springfield factory worker, has rented the fairgrounds here to stage his funeral while he's still alive. It'll be one day before the 68th anniversary of a similar funeral his great-grandfather had eight years before he died.

"I want my friends to give me roses while I'm alive instead of after I'm gone," said McKinney, who found the path less than rosy while trying to arrange his early funeral.

He encountered resistance from county officials—and from relatives who live in Portsmouth, where he was born.

McKinney's sister and ex-wife refused to have anything to do with his plans. County officials were reluctant to let him use the fairgrounds, until he got $100,000 worth of liability insurance.

He also had to promise there would be no commercialization —not even refreshments.

Portsmouth residents generally are paying little heed to McKinney's funeral. Many people, he said, "look at me like I'm some kind of nut." But a lot of curious folks, from Portsmouth and other places, are expected to be on hand to see McKinney stand beside a shiny new casket while musicians play and sing and a pastor preaches.

There has been no official estimate of how many "mourners" might turn out. But McKinney contends he has been given to understand the crowd might number 100,000.

McKinley has lined up 10 different musical groups to provide hymns and guitar and harmonica music.

White's Son Hears Of Dad's Walk, Strikes Out In Game

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Young Eddie White heard about his dad taking a solo stroll in space Wednesday, then the youngster went to a Little League baseball game and struck out his first turn at bat.

"I hope to go somewhere with him," Mrs. White, an attractive blonde, told newsmen. "I think they'll give him some time off. If I have my way we'll go to Colorado."

Both Mrs. White and Mrs. McDivitt went through the tight security of the Manned Space Center to visit the Mission Control Center.

Smiling, but apparently weary, Mrs. McDivitt told newsmen: "We were all having a ball and still are."

Mrs. White said she wasn't frightened while her husband was outside the space vehicle and said she recognized his voice when he spoke during the space plunge.

"I could hear him laughing. I wasn't worried. I knew it would work out all okay," she said.

Her children, Mrs. White said, were so proud, "they could bust; they just don't know what to do."

Mrs. White, wearing a white dress and a blue jacket, and Mrs. McDivitt, her bright blue dress contrasting her dark hair, visited the control center shortly after White became the first American to walk in space. They stayed at the center for 45 minutes, but did not talk to their husbands on the communications facilities. Afterward, they returned home.

Assets In Private Pension Funds Increased $5 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The assets of private pension funds increased by $5.4 billion last year to $51.9 billion, even though they paid out $1.7 billion in benefits.

Figured at their present market value, however, the value of the funds reached $63.4 billion.

Most of the funds cover corporation employes and many are administered by unions.

The figures were contained in an annual report released Thursday night by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Claims Ground Forces Must Do It

Humphrey Says Air Raids Alone Won't Win In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says air strikes alone won't do the job and the war in Viet Nam will have to be won on the ground by South Vietnamese forces.

Humphrey said in an Associated Press interview he believes that South Vietnamese fighting units — given sufficient time — can subdue their Communist opponents.

He said he thinks the Viet Cong will call it quits once the Communists become convinced the United States is determined to stay to the end in South Viet Nam.

Humphrey said that while a year or two ago he had deep concern over U.S. involvement in the area he now strongly supports the kind of action President Johnson his taken there.

"I'm still concerned, but I know what we're doing is what we have to do," he said.

Some questions and answers on Viet Nam:

Q. Do you really believe we can win there?

A. If we have the patience and the will and the determination, and if we seek no quick and easy answers and any sudden victories, I believe we can win. I think we'll have to win on the ground, and I think we'll have to win in South Viet Nam.

I think that the procedures which are being presently applied show the signs of success. There will be periods of time when it will look rather dismal, but as long as we remember that we're essentially an air power and a sea power, and as long as we maintain secure areas on the coast lines and start to expand that perimeter — seeking to pacify as the South Vietnamese and our forces move inland — I think that in due time, if we stick with it and do not expect too much in a hurry, that we definitely can win.

Q. You said we'd have to win on the ground. Do you mean win with our grand forces?

A. No. I mean that while I do support the bombing — I think this has been a necessary part of strengthening the morale of South Viet Nam and of stopping down and slowing down the flow of goods and manpower into South Viet Nam from North Viet Nam — that ultimately this conflict will have to be won in South Viet Nam. This is where you win this battle. And I'm convinced that we can win it in South Viet Nam, particularly if the South Vietnamese will show some degree of stability in their government and the willingness to make some concessions to the realities of this war.

The South Vietnamese are very patriotic; they're very brave. My goodness, when I think of the losses they've suffered, the incredible losses, and the terror that's been inflicted upon them, I'm amazed at their bravery and their stick-to-itiveness. I feel that if we never let them feel for a minute that there are any doubts as to our conviction and our determination to stay there, that given the time, the Viet Cong will call it quits.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child Should Do Mental Work At Home

Homework assignments at school, the nation over, seem to be growing heavier and to be starting earlier in the grades. Yet some parents, seeing that their child has no homework assignments in the early grades, believe they should assign some mental work for him to do at home. They believe the child needs to do some studying at home. Imagine the kind of work some of the parents might select for the child. Consider how inept the average parent might be in selecting work for the child to do.

Dr. Garry Myers

One might guess it often would be too difficult for him, that it might bear little relation to the work the child is doing at school, and the resistance or boredom to the youngster it might induce.

—:—

FEELING sure the child with no homework assignment should have some, his parents might do least harm and some possible good, if they conferred with the child's teacher or sat as an observer in his classes at school in order to see the kind of lessons he was taught there.

Even if they did so, their child, knowing his classmates were assigned no homework, hardly would be enthusiastic over having his parents assign him lessons at home.

What these parents should do is to read daily to the child at home before he gets homework assignments at school. As soon as he can read some they should also find very easy - to - read but interesting books from which he might wish to read; also some of the children's magazines.

IF THE child then found pleasure from success at reading so easy interesting material, he also would enjoy still more having his parents read to him the harder materials from the same magazines or books or from similar ones.

Much may be said for the desirability of stimulating the child in primary grades or higher ones at reading for pleasure. Not the least is the habit of listening or reading alone daily for brief periods, the habit of some daily mental exercise at home.

If your child, by the third or fourth grade, has little or no homework, you might wisely aim to stimulate, even require, him to read for short periods daily. He could choose from among several books or other materials which you select for him. Even in the upper grades or junior high school, if your work for any or for certain evenings, you might wisely require him to do some reading every evening.

THIS procedure should help remove temptation from the child to imagine or falsely report no homework assignments. This is very different from assigning him words to spell, or sums in arithmetic to solve, or themes to write.

If you select a group of books or magazines from which he may choose one or more to read, be sure they contain some he is able to read with meaning and satisfaction.

In case this child is indifferent to reading or strongly resists doing so, you need to try to find out, with the help of the school or an outside specialist, what may be done to help this child become a better reader.

If there is a much younger child in the family, you might persuade, even hire, this older poor - reading child to read aloud to the younger one. Perhaps there's no more promising way for any poor reader to become a better reader.

IN ALL efforts at cultivating faithful doing of homework or supplementing it by reading, TV viewing must be regulated.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," "Why Read to Baby and Young Child," and "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

May's Food Bill At Jail $1,181

LISBON — It cost $1,181.63 to serve 3,382 meals at the Columbiana County Jail during May, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports in his monthly summary. The average food cost per prisoner was 99 cents per day.

The jail received 86 prisoners last month, in addition to the 41 already confined as of May 1. Eighty-seven prisoners were released in May, eight were conveyed to state institutions and one mental patient was taken to a state hospital. The jail had 194 visitors during the month.

The sheriff said 324 papers were served and 6,421 radio transmissions and 1,308 telephone calls were handled at the jail. Fees of $1,161.65 were collected.

Twenty-four sets of fox feet and ears were turned in at the sheriff's office in the Courthouse for the $3 bounty.

2 Bandits Pull $11,200 Holdup At Traffic Light

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two bandits pulled an $11,200 armed holdup at a busy intersection Thursday, apparently unnoticed by other motorists.

James T. Smith, a supermarket owner, and his manager, Gerald Ervin, had just withdrawn the money from a bank and were returning to the store.

As they stopped for a traffic light at the intersection, Smith told police, two other cars, one in front and the other in back, hemmed his car in. The two drivers then walked up and said, "This is a holdup."

Both held revolvers, Smith said. "I could see the bullets."

Dismissal Requested Of DeNiro Tax Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—The attorney for the three DeNiro brothers of Youngstown has asked U. S. District Court Judge Frank J. Battisti to dismiss the government's tax evasion case against the three.

Attorney James J. Carroll filed the motion Thurday after the government rested its case against brothers Michael, 44, Frank Jr., 40, and Louis DeNiro, 34. He contended there was no criminal intent on the part of the three to hide from the Internal Revenue Service the assets of their slain brother, Vincent.

The brothers are charged with evading $111,020 in estate and inheritance taxes from properties of Vince, who was killed in a bombing July 17, 1961.

The use of quinine in the treatment of malaria is generally credited to the Spanish Jesuit priests who lived in Peru during the 1600's.

Claims Ground Forces Must Do It

Humphrey Says Air Raids Alone Won't Win In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says air strikes alone won't do the job and the war in Viet Nam will have to be won on the ground by South Vietnamese forces.

Humphrey said in an Associated Press interview he believes that South Vietnamese fighting units — given sufficient time — can subdue their Communist opponents.

He said he thinks the Viet Cong will call it quits once the Communists become convinced the United States is determined to stay to the end in South Viet Nam.

Humphrey said that while a year or two ago he had deep concern over U.S. involvement in the area he now strongly supports the kind of action President Johnson hs taken there.

"I'm still concerned, but I know what we're doing is what we have to do," he said.

Some questions and answers on Viet Nam:

Q. Do you really believe we can win there?

A. If we have the patience and the will and the determination, and if we seek no quick and easy answers and any sudden victories, I believe we can win. I think we'll have to win on the ground, and I think we'll have to win in South Viet Nam.

I think that the procedures which are being presently applied show the signs of success. There will be periods of time when it will look rather dismal, but as long as we remember that we're essentially an air power and a sea power, and as long as we maintain secure areas on the coast lines and start to expand that perimeter — seeking to pacify as the South Vietnamese and our forces move inland — I think that in due time, if we stick with it and do not expect too much in a hurry, that we definitely can win.

Q. You said we'd have to win on the ground. Do you mean win with our grand forces?

A. No. I mean that while I do support the bombing — I think this has been a necessary part of strengthening the morale of South Viet Nam and of stopping down and slowing down the flow of goods and manpower into South Viet Nam from North Viet Nam — that ultimately this conflict will have to be won in South Viet Nam. This is where you win this battle. And I'm convinced that we can win it in South Viet Nam, particularly if the South Vietnamese will show some degree of stability in their government and the willingness to make some concessions to the realities of this war.

The South Vietnamese are very patriotic; they're very brave. My goodness, when I think of the losses they've suffered, the incredible losses, and the terror that's been inflicted upon them, I'm amazed at their bravery and their stick-to-itiveness. I feel that if we never let them feel for a minute that there are any doubts as to our conviction and our determination to stay there, that given the time, the Viet Cong will call it quits.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Child Should Do Mental Work At Home

Homework assignments at school, the nation over, seem to be growing heavier and to be starting earlier in the grades. Yet some parents, seeing that their child has no homework assignments in the early grades, believe they should assign some mental work for him to do at home. They believe the child needs to do some studying at home. Imagine the kind of work some of the parents might select for the child. Consider how inept the average parent might be in selecting work for the child to do.

Dr. Garry Myers

One might guess it often would be too difficult for him, that it might bear little relation to the work the child is doing at school, and the resistance or boredom to the youngster it might induce.

—:—

FEELING sure the child with no homework assignment should have some, his parents might do least harm and some possible good, if they conferred with the child's teacher or sat as an observer in his classes at school in order to see the kind of lessons he was taught there.

Even if they did so, their child, knowing his classmates were assigned no homework, hardly would be enthusiastic over having his parents assign him lessons at home.

What these parents should do is to read daily to the child at home before he gets homework assignments at school. As soon as he can read some they should also find very easy - to - read but interesting books from which he might wish to read; also some of the children's magazines.

IF THE child then found pleasure from success at reading so easy interesting material, he also would enjoy still more having his parents read to him the harder materials from the same magazines or books or from similar ones.

Much may be said for the desirability of stimulating the child in primary grades or higher ones at reading for pleasure. Not the least is the habit of listening or reading alone daily for brief periods, the habit of some daily mental exercise at home.

If your child, by the third or fourth grade, has little or no homework, you might wisely aim to stimulate, even require, him to read for short periods daily. He could choose from among several books or other materials which you select for him. Even in the upper grades or junior high school, if your work for any or for certain evenings, you might wisely require him to do some reading every evening.

THIS procedure should help remove temptation from the child to imagine or falsely report no homework assignments. This is very different from assigning him words to spell, or sums in arithmetic to solve, or themes to write.

If you select a group of books or magazines from which he may choose one or more to read, be sure they contain some he is able to read with meaning and satisfaction.

In case this child is indifferent to reading or strongly resists doing so, you need to try to find out, with the help of the school or an outside specialist, what may be done to help this child become a better reader.

If there is a much younger child in the family, you might persuade, even hire, this older poor - reading child to read aloud to the younger one. Perhaps there's no more promising way for any poor reader to become a better reader.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," "Why Read to Baby and Young Child," and "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

May's Food Bill At Jail $1,181

LISBON — It cost $1,181.63 to serve 3,382 meals at the Columbiana County Jail during May, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports in his monthly summary. The average food cost per prisoner was 99 cents per day.

The jail received 86 prisoners last month, in addition to the 41 already confined as of May 1. Eighty-seven prisoners were released in May, eight were conveyed to state institutions and one mental patient was taken to a state hospital. The jail had 194 visitors during the month.

The sheriff said 324 papers were served and 6,421 radio transmissions and 1,308 telephone calls were handled at the jail. Fees of $1,161.65 were collected.

Twenty-four sets of fox feet and ears were turned in at the sheriff's office in the Courthouse for the $3 bounty.

On Johnson's Proposal

Swift Congress Step Due To Cut Silver In Coins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress goes to work swiftly today on President Johnson's proposal to reduce sharply the amount of silver in U.S. coins.

A House Banking Committee hearing, with Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Assistant Secretary Robert A. Wallace as witnesses, was scheduled less than 24 hours after Johnson's message reached Congress.

Johnson's legislation would substitute nickel-copper dimes and quarters for the present silver ones and reduce the silver content of the half-dollar.

Most members of Congress who commented appeared to favor the proposal, if only because they felt the shrinking supply of silver leaves the government little choice.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., Banking and Currency Committee chairman, said: "We have got to do something — and this is good money. Anything the government says is good for the payment of debts and taxes is good money, even if it is made of wood. You could even pay alimony with this."

Patman said he thinks the hearings can be brief, but that spokesman for the vending-machine industry may want to be heard. One of the problems of devising a substitute coinage is to find a combination of metals that will work in machines designed for silver coins.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, said hearings by that group will begin next week. He said the proposal doesn't entirely please everyone, but "action should be prompt in both the Senate and House, and I anticipate it can be, because this compromise measure is temporary legislation to protect a rapidly diminishing silver supply until permanent legislation can be formulated."

Rep. William B. Widnall of New Jersey, senior Republican member of the House Banking Committee, said he realizes something should be done. But he proposed a name for bonding different metals together in coins: "Consensus coinage," a reference to Johnson's efforts to bring persons of different views together in support of his programs.

Area Delegation To Take Part In K. Of C. Rites

A delegation from Cardinal Mercier Assembly, Knights of Columbus, will take part in the exemplification of the Fourth Degree of the order during ceremonies Sunday in the Pick-Ohio Hotel at Youngstown.

The district group will present a number of candidates and James J. McGowan, faithful navigator, John E. Johnston and Fred Baldasare will serve on the degree team.

The exemplification will begin at 1 p. m., with approximately 100 candidates from the 14 assemblies of the eastern district of Ohio being initiated.

The class will be named in honor of Stephen A. Vano of Youngstown, former master of the district. Wilfred T. Herbert of Canton, present master, will be in charge.

Herron Gets Backing For Lions' Post

The convention will continue through Sunday.

Charles Miller, president of the New Cumberland club, in pressing the drive, points to Herron's outstanding record in Lions work both on a local and state level.

Herron is a charter member of the New Cumberland club and has a perfect attendance record for 16 years. He has served in various offices through the district level.

Ayers Plans Action On Anti-Poverty Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, says the federal government's anti-poverty program has become a "direct political tool" and he plans to seek action to end "politically motivated mud slinging" at state governors.

The Ohio congressman said Thursday he will initiate an amendment that would restore the full governor's veto powers over any community action project in the program.

Kiwanis Tours Globe Brick Mine And Plant

Intruder Loots Home In Woman's Absence

Mrs. Meyer Reich, 760 Woodlawn Ave., told police Thursday afternoon the locked third floor of her home was looted of miscellaneous household articles while she was on an extended stay in California that began in December 1963.

Mrs. Reich said the loss included pillow cases, sheets, a radio, a camera, a watch, silver service for six, silver cups, a coat, two quilts, bedspreads, two table cloths and a lamp.

Final Exams Start Monday

Final examinations for East Liverpool High School sophomores and juniors will be held Monday through Wednesday mornings, Principal Carl F. Pelini has announced.

No classes will be held on any of the three afternoons and there will be no classes on Thursday. Report cards will be distributed Friday, the final day of the term.

Examination for first- and second-period classes will be held Monday morning with third- and fourth-period classes being given tests Tuesday morning. Examinations for fifth- and sixth-period classes will be held Wednesday morning.

Any student who fails a course must report to the high school auditorium after receiving his report card for rescheduling of his courses by the deans. If a student does not remain for consultation with the deans, he will be scheduled as school officials see best.

Students who fail will be required to find other transportation home since school buses will leave at dismissal time, Pelini said.

Summer school will begin June 14, with courses in American history, American government, world history, economics, English II and III being offered.

The English courses will be available only to those who have failed the course.

The majority of students are not repeating subjects, Pelini explained. He pointed out many take courses to complete a requirement so they can take an elective course during the regular term. No tuition fees are charged for summer school.

The oldest printed book still in existence is in the British Museum at London. It is a 16-foot-long Buddhist scroll, the Diamond Sutra of A. D. 868.

Most members of Congress who commented appeared to favor the proposal, if only because they felt the shrinking supply of silver leaves the government little choice.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., Banking and Currency Committee chairman, said: "We have got to do something — and this is good money. Anything the government says is good for the payment of debts and taxes is good money, even if it is made of wood. You could even pay alimony with this."

Patman said he thinks the hearings can be brief, but that spokesman for the vending-machine industry may want to be heard. One of the problems of devising a substitute coinage is to find a combination of metals that will work in machines designed for silver coins.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, said hearings by that group will begin next week. He said the proposal doesn't entirely please everyone, but "action should be prompt in both the Senate and House, and I anticipate it can be, because this compromise measure is temporary legislation to protect a rapidly diminishing silver supply until permanent legislation can be formulated."

Rep. William B. Widnall of New Jersey, senior Republican member of the House Banking Committee, said he realizes something should be done. But he proposed a name for bonding different metals together in coins: "Consensus coinage," a reference to Johnson's efforts to bring persons of different views together in support of his programs.

Area Delegation To Take Part In K. Of C. Rites

A delegation from Cardinal Mercier Assembly, Knights of Columbus, will take part in the exemplification of the Fourth Degree of the order during ceremonies Sunday in the Pick-Ohio Hotel at Youngstown.

The district group will present a number of candidates and James J. McGowan, faithful navigator, John E. Johnston and Fred Baldasare will serve on the degree team.

The exemplification will begin at 1 p. m., with approximately 100 candidates from the 14 assemblies of the eastern district of Ohio being initiated.

The class will be named in honor of Stephen A. Vano of Youngstown, former master of the district. Wilfred T. Herbert of Canton, present master, will be in charge.

Herron Gets Backing For Lions' Post

The convention will continue through Sunday.

Charles Miller, president of the New Cumberland club, in pressing the drive, points to Herron's outstanding record in Lions work both on a local and state level.

Herron is a charter member of the New Cumberland club and has a perfect attendance record for 16 years. He has served in various offices through the district level.

Ayers Plans Action On Anti-Poverty Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio, says the federal government's anti-poverty program has become a "direct political tool" and he plans to seek action to end "politically motivated mud slinging" at state governors.

The Ohio congressman said Thursday he will initiate an amendment that would restore the full governor's veto powers over any community action project in the program.

Kiwanis Tours Globe Brick Mine And Plant

Intruder Loots Home In Woman's Absence

Mrs. Meyer Reich, 760 Woodlawn Ave., told police Thursday afternoon the locked third floor of her home was looted of miscellaneous household articles while she was on an extended stay in California that began in December 1963.

Mrs. Reich said the loss included pillow cases, sheets, a radio, a camera, a watch, silver service for six, silver cups, a coat, two quilts, bedspreads, two table cloths and a lamp.

Final Exams Start Monday

Final examinations for East Liverpool High School sophomores and juniors will be held Monday through Wednesday mornings, Principal Carl F. Pelini has announced.

No classes will be held on any of the three afternoons and there will be no classes on Thursday. Report cards will be distributed Friday, the final day of the term.

Examination for first- and second-period classes will be held Monday morning with third- and fourth-period classes being given tests Tuesday morning. Examinations for fifth- and sixth-period classes will be held Wednesday morning.

Any student who fails a course must report to the high school auditorium after receiving his report card for rescheduling of his courses by the deans. If a student does not remain for consultation with the deans, he will be scheduled as school officials see best.

Students who fail will be required to find other transportation home since school buses will leave at dismissal time, Pelini said.

Summer school will begin June 14, with courses in American history, American government, world history, economics, English II and III being offered.

The English courses will be available only to those who have failed the course.

The majority of students are not repeating subjects, Pelini explained. He pointed out many take courses to complete a requirement so they can take an elective course during the regular term. No tuition fees are charged for summer school.

The oldest printed book still in existence is in the British Museum at London. It is a 16-foot-long Buddhist scroll, the Diamond Sutra of A. D. 868.

DEAR HELOISE: May I add my favorite use for nylon net?

When I buy celery, I remove the tops, wash the leaves and fold them in a piece of nylon net, hang them in my utility room to dry, and then cram the whole thing into a jar.

When I cook anything that could be helped by a few celery leaves, I just hold the bag over it and crumple the net, and down comes the finest little pieces of celery leaves you could ever have.

DEAR HELOISE: My Mother finds it difficult to get down to clean the bottom shelves in her kitchen cabinet . . . so she sets trays of items on the shelves.

These trays are easily removed, and then she just uses a sponge mop to clean the shelves. Its long handle and square corners are ideal for this.

DEAR HELOISE: When my little ones dress themselves and put their pullover shirts on backwards, I don't take the shirts completely off . . . I just slip their arms out of the sleeves, turn the shirts around to the front, and put their arms back into the sleeves.

Saves time and fussing — as they dislike garments being pulled over their heads.

DEAR HELOISE: Since I use nail polish infrequently, it always settles between uses.

Now, whenever I wish to use nail polish on a particular day, I put the bottle of polish in my pocket (slacks, dress, apron, etc.) in the morning. By evening, when I'm ready to apply it, it is well mixed.

Why don't you store the bottle upside down? Not only will it mix in a jiffy but being air tight, won't get thick!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: To keep your floor length curtains and draperies from becoming soiled when mopping, vacuuming, etc., just sew snaps on lower corners and part way up each side of the backs of the curtains or drapes.

Then, on cleaning day, just snap the curtains or drapes up out of the way.

MRS. J.K.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's something new and different for that "Leave a Note" holder:

Use an ordinary mouse trap and remove the bait pin. Tack the trap on the door or facing, and above it write, "Leave a Note." The spring holds the note in place.

This is especially good on back doors where most deliveries are made. They may be painted to match the door.

MRS. HAROLD NELSON.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that bobbins keep very nicely in plastic, snap-top prescription bottles?

You can see what you want; the threads never tangle, and you can keep them with your spools of thread. They are nicer than those awkward bobbin trays.

I also keep a few needles and a threader in a prescription bottle with the spools. Whenever I want to sew, everything is in one place.

Sanitary Ware Locals Granted Wage Boosts

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today a new contract has been signed granting wage increases to its members employed in six plants of the American Standard Sanitary Corp.

The pact provides 3-cent hourly pay boosts for incentive workers and 11½-cent hikes for day wage employes in the sanitary ware firm's plumbing and heating division plants at Tiffin, Kokomo, Ind., Richmond and Torrance, Calif., New Orleans and Trenton, N. J. It affects members of Locals 7, 26, 89, 175, 218 and 220.

The pact, approved in New York Tuesday, is an amendment to a three-year contract which the union and the firms signed in May 1963. It is effective until May 31, 1966. E. L. Wheatley, international president, opened the negotiations on behalf of the IBOP.

Man's Held For Jury In Gambling Charge

Donald G. DeLong, 35, steward of Newell American Legion Post 114, was held for the Hancock County Grand Jury on a charge of possession of gaming devices at a hearing Wednesday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

DeLong's bond was set at $500.

He was cited in a raid by sheriff's deputies early May 23 when six slot machines reportedly were confiscated.

Findlay Will Be Site Of New Rubber Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes was notified Thursday of plans by the Hercules Tire and Rubber Co. to build a $750,000 tread rubber manufacturing plant in Findlay.

The plant annually will produce 26 million pounds of tread rubber, used in tire retreading, and employ between 30 and 35 persons, according to John A. Hoag, Hercules president. The company's administrative office also will be moved to Findlay from Stamford, Conn., Hoag said.

Remains Of Ancient Indian Village Found

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — Martin P. Conoboy, an amateur archeologist who has been hunting indian relics for the past 13 years, says he has found the remains of an ancient indian village atop a 70-foot bluff along Conneaut Creek near Lake Erie.

Conoboy thinks the artifacts he uncovered in the farm field may be several thousand years old.

At West Point, Annapolis

Mother Will See 2 Sons Get Army, Naval Degrees

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Weather permitting, Mrs. Raymond W. Vogel Jr. will see two of her sons graduate next Wednesday in separate ceremonies at the military and naval academies.

"Everybody kept saying, 'no, no, no, it can't be done'," Mrs. Vogel, of Arlington, Va. says. "But I don't believe anything is impossible."

So after five months of determined effort, she has arranged for Timothy J. Vogel to receive his diploma in an early morning ceremony at West Point, N.Y.

This will give her time to fly to Annapolis for the 11 a.m. exercises where her youngest son, Frederick J. Vogel, will be graduated.

Also making the trip will be Rear Adm. and Mrs. Frederick James Brush, also of Arlington, who have sons graduating from both service academies. Brush is assistant chief of naval operations for logistics.

He is assigned to the Pentagon, where Mrs. Vogel works in the Office of Naval Intelligence.

At least one other couple, Mr. and Mrs. H. Reed Laughlin of Port Huron, Mich., solved the same problem by having each parent attend one ceremony. Cadet Frederick L. Laughlin will be commissioned an Army lieutenant. Midshipman Gary R. Laughlin will become a Navy ensign.

Mrs. Vogel, whose husband was a naval commander killed in action in the Korean War, began last January to try to find a way to attend graduation at both schools, which have ceremonies the same morning eacn year.

Unable to persuade either to change the time, she came up with the idea of a special ceremony at one school. As a result, Cadet Vogel and Cadet William J. Brush will be awarded diplomas early Wednesday morning at West Point.

"It would be just heartbreaking not to see both of them graduate," she says.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Allen Remains On Bench . . .

We have been asked numerous times in the last week about the status of Bernie Allen with the Minnesota Twins.

As the situation now stands, the East Liverpool lad, now in his fourth year as a major leaguer, remains on the disabled list.

According to Bernie, he is in the best of shape and his injured leg feels fine. He travels with the Twins and works out each day before the games.

As far as manager Sam Mele and coach Billy Martin are concerned, Allen is ready to play, but from what we can gather, the big drawback comes from the Twins' front office.

Owner Calvin Griffith apparently is satisfied with the play of Jerry Kindall at second base and does not want to return Allen to the active player roster at this time.

Also, the Twins must make a trade or send a player to the minors in order to make room for Allen on the 25-man roster.

The fact that the Twins are leading the American League and playing .651 baseball may have some bearing on Allen's status. In other words, why break up a winning combination.

Bernie was slowed after a knee operation performed during the off season and didn't work out much in spring training.

Pirates Going Like '60 . . .

THE TOPSY TURVEY baseball race at least has brought Pittsburgh Pirate fans out of hiding in the last two weeks.

The 12-game winning streak, which the Pirates were on before last night's loss to the Mets, had the local Buc delegation beaming, sort of like in 1960 when the Pirates took it all.

The streak began several days after Bill Mazeroski returned to the Pirate lineup, but one player alone didn't cause the sudden reversal in form.

Maz is the fellow who can hold the infield together, but several other factors combined to put the Bucs on the winning trail.

The trade of Dick Schofield and the insertion of Gene Alley, then Andre Rodgers at shortstop helped, along with a better attitude on the part of rightfielder Bob Clemente, who at one time indicated he was hoping to be traded.

Then, there is nothing like timely base hits and strong pitching. In the first month of the season, the Pirates lost a bundle of one-run decisions when a timely hit here and there would have found things swinging their way.

It must be pointed out that the winning streak came at the expense of some second-division clubs.

The streak started in Milwaukee, continued at home against the Cubs, ran up to 10 at New York and went to 12 against the Phils. What the Bucs can do with the Giants, Dodgers, Reds and Cards remains to be seen.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

ACCORDING TO New York papers, Elston Howard, who the Yankees miss behind the plate and at bat, will be returned to the active player list today.

The Yanks can use him, what with an ailing Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, who only recently returned to the lineup.

Twins Move 1½ Games In Front Of Sox

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Camilo Pascual, $500 poorer than he would like to be, is busy trying to make himself and his Minnesota Twin teammates several thousand dollars richer come October.

Pascual, who fought off an attempted $9,000 cut in his almost annual salary squabble with Minnesota owner Cal Griffith, won his seventh straight game Thursday and vaulted the Twins 1½ games in front of Chicago in the American League race.

Minnesota's 4-3 victory over Boston was the only game played in the American League. In the National League, New York snapped Pittsburgh's 12-game winning string 8-6, Milwaukee rapped San Francisco 10-3, Houston slugged Cincinnati 8-3 and Los Angeles ousted St. Louis 11-10.

When Pascual got his 1965 contract offer from Griffith last winter he went into a rage. "I should have asked for a raise," said the Cuban hurler who was 15-12 last year after two straight 20-victory seasons.

The pitcher finally prevailed and although he made overtures at a $500 hike, Pascual finally settled for $46,500 — the same salary he received in 1964.

The way he's pitching right now, Pascual must be thinking about some extra cash for October, like a Worlds Series share perhaps.

The Twins' ace has a 2.54 earned run average to go with his 7-0 record. He has struck out 55 in 81 innings of work.

Riverview Wins With Two-Hitter

Bob Pancake turned in a neat one-hitter as Riverview handed the Realtors a 7-1 setback Thursday in the Colt League.

Pancake allowed one single to Stewart and fanned 10 batters.

Riverview collected eight hits off Dennis Klembara and broke up a 1-1 tie with two runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Mets End Bucs' Streak At 12

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Why, the New York Mets, winners of 3½ games in a row.

The Mets, unbeaten in four games including a tie with the Chicago Cubs last Monday, replaced Pittsburgh as the team with the longest current winning streak by knocking off the Pirates 8-6 Thursday night and ending their string of successes at 12.

But it was that kind of night.

Sandy Koufax started for the Los Angeles Dodgers and wound up one of nine shell-shocked pitchers as the Dodgers finally whipped St. Louis 11-10 and boosted their first-place edge to five games — longest of the season.

Meanwhile, hardly anyone was looking as the Milwaukee Braves crept into second place, downing San Francisco 10-3 despite being held hitless after the third inning.

At Pittsburgh, the Mets would have added 10 years to Casey Stengel's age if he weren't already 74.

They scored two runs in the third inning, then exploded for six more in the fourth as Ed Kranepool and Joe Christopher each drove in a pair. With an 8-0 lead it looked easy, and it was until the eighth inning when Galen Cisco started to play richochet with the Pirate bats.

Roberto Clemente tripled. Willie Stargell homered. Exit Cisco. Enter Larry Miller. Three singles, another run, another Met pitcher, Tom Parsons. Parsons held Jim Pagliaroni to a sacrifice fly and Jerry Lynch to a two-run homer, the 17th pinch-hit shot of his career. Parsons got out of the six-run inning and then retired the side 1-2-3 in the ninth.

Koufax never got past the third inning at St. Louis as the Cardinals pulled out to a 7-3 lead. But there were a few hits still to come. There were 29 in all, 15 by the Dodgers.

Braves Jump To 2nd Place

After four innings the score was tied 7-7, but the Cardinals pulled ahead in the fifth when Bob Skinner smacked a pinch-hit two-run homer and Julian Javier followed with his first homer of the season.

Then it was the Dodgers turn again. They scored one in the seventh and pulled out front to stay in the eighth when pinch hitter Wes Parker doubled and scored on Jim Gilliam's single before Ron Fairly put the finishing touches on with a two-run homer off the right-field vilion roof.

The Braves jammed all their hits and runs into the first three innings, erupting for nine runs in the third — the biggest inning in the majors this season.

Bob Shaw was the victim of the uprising as winning pitcher Ken Johnson, Mack Jones and Eddie Mathews each drove in two runs in the inning. Mathews did his damage with a two-run homer—the 10th and last hit for the Braves, handcuffed the rest of the way by Bill Hands and Bob Bolin.

Things were a little more routine at Cincinnati, where Rusty Staub drove in four runs for the Astros with a homer and a scrifice fly.

Don Nottebart got the victory with relief help from Hal Woodeschick, who came on after Deron Johnson hit a homer for the Reds in the ninth. Woodeshick ended it by getting Tommy Harper to hit into a double play.

PIRATE SLUGGER Willie Stargell, who has found the home run range recently, gives some tips on hitting to a young Pirate fan prior to the game with the New York Mets Thursday night at Pittsburgh. Stargell slugged a two-run homer in the eighth inning of last night's game, his 11th of the season. The Pirates' rally fell short and the Mets ended their 12-game winning streak. (UPI Telephoto)

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Ron Fairly, Dodgers, stroked three hits including a two-run homer in the eighth inning giving Los Angeles an 11-10 victory over St. Louis.

PITCHING — Ken Johnson, Braves, won his fourth game of the season and first since being acquired in a trade from Houston last week by hurling a six-hitter as Milwaukee walloped San Francisco 10-3.

Oakland Raiders Sign Ex-Minnesota U. Back

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Oakland Raiders of the American Football League announced today they have signed Roger Hagberg, former University of Minnesota fullback and a three-year veteran of Canadian football.

Hagberg, 26, joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in 1961 after three years at Minnesota. He played with the Gophers in the Rose Bowl.

Rogers, Pusateri's, Potters Capture Minor League Tilts

Tom Bennett hurled a two-hitter and fanned 13 batters as Rogers Drive-In swamped Potters Bank & Trust, 17-2, while Pusateri's and Potters Savings & Loan picked up victories in other Little Minor League contests Thursday.

Rogers Drive-In pounded 14 hits with George Hanlon and Bill Dorsey collecting two doubles each. John Ward was the losing pitcher.

Pusateri's outslugged M & A Motors for a 22-14 victory. Bud Cunningham, the winning hurler, also paced Pusateri's hitting attack with four safeties while Mike Schwartz and Dave Raber had three each. Shaw was checked with the loss.

Parfitt pitched and batted Potters Savings & Loan to an 18-5 victory over First National. He fanned 16 batters, high for the league so far this season and had five of his team's 14 hits. Michaels had three hits for the losers.

Burbick's Win Pitchers Battle; Sevy's Slug Foe

Burbick's nipped Woodbine, 4-3, in a pitcher's duel and Sevy's Drugs slugged out a 14-2 victory over Bright's in Thursday's Pony League contests.

Jerry Howell edged Bernard Lovejoy in the pitcher's battle. Howell allowed three hits and fanned 12 batters in pitching Burbick's to victory. Lovejoy won the strikeout contest with 17 and allowed only two hits but Woodbine was guilty of three errors.

Woodbine held a 3-1 lead after two innings but Burbick's nipped away for single runs in the fourth, fifth and seventh frames to gain the nod. Berhar and Murray doubled for the only hits off Lovejoy.

Bill Montgomery, the winning pitcher for Sevy's led a 13-hit attack with a home run. A big seven - run fourth inning put the game on ice for the Sevy nine.

Montgomery fanned 11 Bright's batters and allowed five hits. Flannigan was the losing hurler.

Mets End Bucs' Streak At 12

Koufax never got past the third inning at St. Louis as the Cardinals pulled out to a 7-3 lead. But there were a few hits still to come. There were 29 in all, 15 by the Dodgers.

After four innings the score was tied 7-7, but the Cardinals pulled ahead in the fifth when Bob Skinner smacked a pinch-hit two-run homer and Julian Javier followed with his first homer of the season.

Then it was the Dodgers turn again. They scored one in the seventh and pulled out front to stay in the eighth when pinch hitter Wes Parker doubled and scored on Jim Gilliam's single before Ron Fairly put the finishing touches on with a two-run homer off the right-field vilion roof.

The Braves jammed all their hits and runs into the first three innings, erupting for nine runs in the third — the biggest inning in the majors this season.

Bob Shaw was the victim of the uprising as winning pitcher Ken Johnson, Mack Jones and Eddie Mathews each drove in two runs in the inning. Mathews did his damage with a two-run homer—the 10th and last hit for the Braves, handcuffed the rest of the way by Bill Hands and Bob Bolin.

Things were a little more routine at Cincinnati, where Rusty Staub drove in four runs for the Astros with a homer and a scrifice fly.

Don Nottebart got the victory with relief help from Hal Woodeschick, who came on after Deron Johnson hit a homer for the Reds in the ninth. Woodeshick ended it by getting Tommy Harper to hit into a double play.

PIRATE SLUGGER Willie Stargell, who has found the home run range recently, gives some tips on hitting to a young Pirate fan prior to the game with the New York Mets Thursday night at Pittsburgh. Stargell slugged a two-run homer in the eighth inning of last night's game, his 11th of the season. The Pirates' rally fell short and the Mets ended their 12-game winning streak. (UPI Telephoto)

Burbick's Win Pitchers Battle; Sevy's Slug Foe

Burbick's nipped Woodbine, 4-3, in a pitcher's duel and Sevy's Drugs slugged out a 14-2 victory over Bright's in Thursday's Pony League contests.

Jerry Howell edged Bernard Lovejoy in the pitcher's battle. Howell allowed three hits and fanned 12 batters in pitching Burbick's to victory. Lovejoy won the strikeout contest with 17 and allowed only two hits but Woodbine was guilty of three errors.

Woodbine held a 3-1 lead after two innings but Burbick's nipped away for single runs in the fourth, fifth and seventh frames to gain the nod. Berhar and Murray doubled for the only hits off Lovejoy.

Bill Montgomery, the winning pitcher for Sevy's led a 13-hit attack with a home run. A big seven - run fourth inning put the game on ice for the Sevy nine.

Montgomery fanned 11 Bright's batters and allowed five hits. Flannigan was the losing hurler.

Arranges Title Bout

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Ron Fairly, Dodgers, stroked three hits including a two-run homer in the eighth inning giving Los Angeles an 11-10 victory over St. Louis.

PITCHING — Ken Johnson, Braves, won his fourth game of the season and first since being acquired in a trade from Houston last week by hurling a six-hitter as Milwaukee walloped San Francisco 10-3.

Oakland Raiders Sign Ex-Minnesota U. Back

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Oakland Raiders of the American Football League announced today they have signed Roger Hagberg, former University of Minnesota fullback and a three-year veteran of Canadian football.

Hagberg, 26, joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in 1961 after three years at Minnesota. He played with the Gophers in the Rose Bowl.

Rogers, Pusateri's, Potters Capture Minor League Tilts

Tom Bennett hurled a two-hitter and fanned 13 batters as Rogers Drive-In swamped Potters Bank & Trust, 17-2, while Pusateri's and Potters Savings & Loan picked up victories in other Little Minor League contests Thursday.

Rogers Drive-In pounded 14 hits with George Hanlon and Bill Dorsey collecting two doubles each. John Ward was the losing pitcher.

Pusateri's outslugged M & A Motors for a 22-14 victory. Bud Cunningham, the winning hurler, also paced Pusateri's hitting attack with four safeties while Mike Schwartz and Dave Raber had three each. Shaw was checked with the loss.

Parfitt pitched and batted Potters Savings & Loan to an 18-5 victory over First National. He fanned 16 batters, high for the league so far this season and had five of his team's 14 hits. Michaels had three hits for the losers.

AFL Might Expand Sooner

Rozelle Recommends Expansion Of League To 16 Teams By 1967

Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced he has recommended the National Football League add two teams for a total of 16 by 1967.

Informed of the announcement by The Associated Press, Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League said the AFL might do it sooner, perhaps putting two new teams on the field by 1966.

Then they started ticking off potential expansion targets. Between the two of them they covered most of the major cities in the United States and Canada, including some in the rival league.

In a Thursday night news conference, Rozelle named 12 "major cities which have expressed an interest in an NFL franchise."

They are Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Miami, Atlanta, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Houston, Memphis, Phoenix, Seattle and Portland.

When it was pointed out that Boston and Houston already had teams in the rival AFL, Rozelle said:

"I have not given extensive thought to that. I have no feelings about those cities in particular."

But Foss had some particular feelings.

"There's plenty of rooom for both of us," said the commissioner of the five-year-old, eight-team league. "There are any number of cities that can support pro football and any number that can support two teams."

Then he ticked off his list: Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Atlanta, New Orleans, Miami, Columbus and Dayton, Ohio, Portland, Louisville, Memphis, Seattle, Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver.

Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia and Los Angeles all have teams in the 45-year-old NFL and Milwaukee supports the Green Bay Packers, some 60 miles away.

At present, only New York has a team in each league and a two-team trial in Dallas didn't work out, with the AFL team moving to Kansas City. Both leagues are now armed with millions of dollars in television money and are looking for new markets.

Sires Of Ribot Favored

Family Affair Expected In 7-Horse Belmont Run

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Rolfe and Dapper Dan, who made a family affair of the Preakness three weeks ago with a torrid duel over the final yards, renew their rivalry Saturday at Aqueduct in the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes, with Hail to All and four so-so performers seeking to break up the monopoly.

Both Tom Rolfe, a midget alongside most thoroughbreds, and Dapper Dan, who strikes terror in his rivals with his home-stretch charges, were sired by the unbeaten Italian stallion—Ribot. They are owned by first cousins — Tom Rolfe by Raymond Guest, U. S. ambassador to Ireland, and Dapper Dan by Oden Phipps.

Dapper Dan and Tom Rolfe first hooked up in the Kentucky Derby May 1. Dapper Dan staged his patented finish but failed by a neck to catch Lucky Debonair, with Tom Rolfe two lengths back in third place.

Two weeks later they met in the Preakness. This time Tom Rolfe took the lead midway of the home stretch and went all out to hold off Dapper Dan's surging drive by a neck. Lucky Debonair wound up far back because of leg injuries.

Since then the supporters of Dapper Dan have claimed all he needs is a longer distance. He gets it in the 1½ miles of the Belmont, a race that is one-quarter mile longer than the Derby and five-sixteenths of a mile longer than the Preakness.

Post time is 4:15 p.m. EST.

The race will be nationally televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System from 4-4:30 p.m. EST and carried on radio from 4:10-4:30.

Only Mrs. Ben Cohen's Hail to All, who like Dapper Dan prefers to race far back in the early going and then turn on his blazing speed in the closing yards, is expected to offer the favored pair any serious argument.

When the entry box closed this morning, the field was expected to be completed by Bold Bidder from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, Selari from Lawrence Katz's Valley arms, J. R. Straus' lightly raced La Cima and First Family from the Meadoe Stable of C. T. Chenery.

With seven starters, the race will be worth $146,650 with $102,900 earmarked for the winner.

Newell Nips Hanover, 7-6, In Jr. League

In a game which showed 30 strikeouts, Newell edged Hanover, 7-6, in a South Side Hot Stove League Junior Division game Thursday.

Newell pitchers Jim Booher and Ron Heffner fanned 16 batters while McCoy and Bennett of Hanover struck out 14. Heffner picked up the victory in relief as the contest went eight innings.

Lawrenceville paced by the four-hit pitching of Bill Lyons, topped Frankfort, 7-1. Lyons fanned 10 batters while Duke Reed and Terry Simpson supplied the punch for the winners with two hits each.

In one other game, Shippingport ran away with Hookstown, 25-4. Ashcroft was the winning hurler with Steve Verzella, the loser.

Hancock Nine Wins First In Chester Loop

Hancock Savings & Loan defeated Globe Brick, 6-3, to record the first official victory in the Chester City Softball League Thursday night after rain had postponed the first two nights.

Bryson picked up the mound victory scattering seven hits. The winners collected six hits off Bill Talbott and took advantage of three errors.

Hancock Savings opened with three runs in the first inning and never trailed by adding two markers in the fourth and one in the fifth.

The Chester Merchants will meet Scafide's tonight.

Historic Ball Park Will Be Torn Down

ATLANTA (AP) — Historic Ponce de Leon Park, home of the Atlanta Crackers for nearly half a century, will be torn down starting July 5.

Earl Mann, who operated and then owned the Crackers for 25 years, announced sale of salvage rights to the ball park Thursday. He said he intends to retain title to the property and will decide its future later.

"Time marches on, we have just built an $18-million future and its time to tear down a great baseball past," Mann said.

Spray Leads Buick Event By 1 Stroke

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — Young Steve Spray took a giant step toward a slice of the $100,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament jackpot by taking the first round lead Thursday.

Spray, 24, playing in his seventh tournament and yet to win a penny, fashioned a brilliant 32-36—68 over the Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club course. The links yielded only 11 subpar rounds on opening day as 144 pros tussled with the par 72 course.

One stroke back was Julius Boros, the winner here in 1963. Six others, including Jack Nicklaus and Doug Sanders, were two strokes off the pace.

Among the score scrambling to survive the cut to the low 70-plus ties today was U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi. In one of his last major warmups in preparation of defense for his crown, he had a 76.

Arnold Palmer and Gary Player were among 20 pros deadlocked at 73. Bruce Crampton, No. 2 money winner and the only three-time winner of this season's tour, had a 77.

Winning Team In Breakfast League Honored

The high handicap game and series was turned in by Vera Rowland of 228 and 598.

Wesleyan Eliminated

CARBONDALE, Ill (AP) — Ohio Wesleyan was eliminated from contention for the NCAA-Mid-East Regional baseball title Thursday by losing to Southern Illinois University, 6-1.

Needham Shows 17 Strikeouts In Junior Loop

Kim Needham fanned 17 batters in a six-inning game to feature play in the HIH Junior League Thursday.

Needham hurled the Salineville Chiefs to a 5-2 victory over the Highlandtown Apaches. The Chiefs collected seven hits off Vince Crist who struck out 12 batters.

In another contest, the Hammondsville Red Sox defeated the Highlandtown Rebels, 7-1. Gene Furbee, the winning pitcher, tripled in two runs to put his team in front for good.

Bret Hanover Paces Off 28th Straight

DETROIT (AP) — Unbeaten Bret Hanover paced off victory No. 28 at the Wolverine Raceway Thursday night, matching the all-time mark set by Torpid in 1957 and taking the $21,434 Matron Stake.

Driver Frank Ervin opened up in the stretch and covered the mile in 2:02 4-5, fastest of the season here before a turnout of 6,000.

Loses Gliding Lead

SOUTH CERNEY, England (AP)—Dick Schroeder of Bryan, Ohio, who was leading the Standard Class over-all standings after two races in the World Gliding Championships, fell three miles short of the goal Thursday and dropped out of the top spot.

Signs With Packers

Fans Get Last Look At Snell

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Track fans will get their last look at sensational Peter Snell of New Zealand tonight as he heads a crack group of runners in the mile run in the annual Compton Invitational meet in Memorial Coliseum.

The action was shifted from nearby Compton because of poor facilities in its original setting.

Billed to compete against Snell, who says this is his last season of competition, are such other sub-four-minute milers as youthful Jim Ryun, the Wichita, Kan., high school star; and veterans Jim Grelle, Cary Weisiger, Bob Schul and Josef Odlozil of Czechoslovakia.

Snell will be aiming at his own world mark of 3:54.1 but, as in past appearances here, he cautioned that he generally runs to win, not necessarily lower a record.

Cananzi's Latest Entry Scores In Three Dog Shows

Local Nine Beaten, 3-1 By Monaca

Monaca's two - run first inning proved the difference in a 3-1 loss suffered by the East Liverpool Friendly Bowling Merchants in a Beaver County League game Thursday at Midland.

Walker, the losing hurler, only gave up three hits as did Monaca's Pquansky who limited the East Liverpool nine to one run in the second inning.

All of Monaca's runs were unearned as the Friendly-Merchants committed four errors.

McVay's 1-Hit Job Features Little League

A one-hitter by Randy McVay highlighted action in the Little League as Veteran Plate Glass romped to a 10-2 victory over Golden Star.

McVay allowed only one hit but that was a home run to Jeff Michels, the losing pitcher. Watson slapped two singles and a double for the winners.

In a National Division contest, the Medics bested Chester Legion, 4-1, as Steve Lockhart picked up the pitching victory. Jim Moore and Dave Rogers tripled to lead the Medics seven-hit attack. Ralph Seevers, who fanned 12 batters, was the losing hurler.

Fry, Boyd Take Low Women's Golf Score

Leota Fry and Della Ann Boyd tied for low gross 51 in the first flight to take honors in the Pleasant Hills Women's Golf Association.

Irene Grace took low net with 34. The low gross in the second flight went to Marilyn Wolfe with 59 while low net was won by Jane Vazquez who carded 36.

AFL Might Expand Sooner

Rozelle Recommends Expansion Of League To 16 Teams By 1967

Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced he has recommended the National Football League add two teams for a total of 16 by 1967.

Informed of the announcement by The Associated Press, Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League said the AFL might do it sooner, perhaps putting two new teams on the field by 1966.

Then they started ticking off potential expansion targets. Between the two of them they covered most of the major cities in the United States and Canada, including some in the rival league.

In a Thursday night news conference, Rozelle named 12 "major cities which have expressed an interest in an NFL franchise."

They are Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Miami, Atlanta, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Houston, Memphis, Phoenix, Seattle and Portland.

When it was pointed out that Boston and Houston already had teams in the rival AFL, Rozelle said:

"'I have not given extensive thought to that. I have no feelings about those cities in particular."

But Foss had some particular feelings.

"There's plenty of rooom for both of us," said the commissioner of the five-year-old, eight-team league. "'There are any number of cities that can support pro football and any number that can support two teams."

Then he ticked off his list: Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Atlanta, New Orleans, Miami, Columbus and Dayton, Ohio, Portland, Louisville, Memphis, Seattle, Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver.

Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia and Los Angeles all have teams in the 45-year-old NFL and Milwaukee supports the Green Bay Packers, some 60 miles away.

At present, only New York has a team in each league and a two-team trial in Dallas didn't work out, with the AFL team moving to Kansas City. Both leagues are now armed with millions of dollars in television money and are looking for new markets.

Sires Of Ribot Favored

Family Affair Expected In 7-Horse Belmont Run

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Rolfe and Dapper Dan, who made a family affair of the Preakness three weeks ago with a torrid duel over the final yards, renew their rivalry Saturday at Aqueduct in the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes, with Hail to All and four so-so performers seeking to break up the monopoly.

Both Tom Rolfe, a midget alongside most thoroughbreds, and Dapper Dan, who strikes terror in his rivals with his home-stretch charges, were sired by the unbeaten Italian stallion—Ribot. They are owned by first cousins — Tom Rolfe by Raymond Guest, U. S. ambassador to Ireland, and Dapper Dan by Oden Phipps.

Dapper Dan and Tom Rolfe first hooked up in the Kentucky Derby May 1. Dapper Dan staged his patented finish but failed by a neck to catch Lucky Debonair, with Tom Rolfe two lengths back in third place.

Two weeks later they met in the Preakness. This time Tom Rolfe took the lead midway of the home stretch and went all out to hold off Dapper Dan's surging drive by a neck. Lucky Debonair wound up far back because of leg injuries.

Since then the supporters of Dapper Dan have claimed all he needs is a longer distance. He gets it in the 1½ miles of the Belmont, a race that is one-quarter mile longer than the Derby and five-sixteenths of a mile longer than the Preakness.

Post time is 4:15 p.m. EST.

The race will be nationally televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System from 4-4:30 p.m. EST and carried on radio from 4:10-4:30.

Only Mrs. Ben Cohen's Hail to All, who like Dapper Dan prefers to race far back in the early going and then turn on his blazing speed in the closing yards, is expected to offer the favored pair any serious argument.

When the entry box closed this morning, the field was expected to be completed by Bold Bidder from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, Selari from Lawrence Katz's Valley arms, J. R. Straus' lightly raced La Cima and First Family from the Meadoe Stable of C. T. Chenery.

With seven starters, the race will be worth $146,650 with $102,900 earmarked for the winner.

Newell Nips Hanover, 7-6, In Jr. League

In a game which showed 30 strikeouts, Newell edged Hanover, 7-6, in a South Side Hot Stove League Junior Division game Thursday.

Newell pitchers Jim Booher and Ron Heffner fanned 16 batters while McCoy and Bennett of Hanover struck out 14. Heffner picked up the victory in relief as the contest went eight innings.

Lawrenceville paced by the four-hit pitching of Bill Lyons, topped Frankfort, 7-1. Lyons fanned 10 batters while Duke Reed and Terry Simpson supplied the punch for the winners with two hits each.

In one other game, Shippingport ran away with Hookstown, 25-4. Ashcroft was the winning hurler with Steve Verzella, the loser.

Hancock Nine Wins First In Chester Loop

Hancock Savings & Loan defeated Globe Brick, 6-3, to record the first official victory in the Chester City Softball League Thursday night after rain had postponed the first two nights.

Bryson picked up the mound victory scattering seven hits. The winners collected six hits off Bill Talbott and took advantage of three errors.

Hancock Savings opened with three runs in the first inning and never trailed by adding two markers in the fourth and one in the fifth.

The Chester Merchants will meet Scafide's tonight.

Historic Ball Park Will Be Torn Down

ATLANTA (AP) — Historic Ponce de Leon Park, home of the Atlanta Crackers for nearly half a century, will be torn down starting July 5.

Earl Mann, who operated and then owned the Crackers for 25 years, announced sale of salvage rights to the ball park Thursday. He said he intends to retain title to the property and will decide its future later.

"Time marches on, we have just built an $18-million future and its time to tear down a great baseball past," Mann said.

Spray Leads Buick Event By 1 Stroke

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — Young Steve Spray took a giant step toward a slice of the $100,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament jackpot by taking the first round lead Thursday.

Spray, 24, playing in his seventh tournament and yet to win a penny, fashioned a brilliant 32-36—68 over the Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club course. The links yielded only 11 subpar rounds on opening day as 144 pros tussled with the par 72 course.

Among the score scrambling to survive the cut to the low 70-plus ties today was U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi. In one of his last major warmups in preparation of defense for his crown, he had a 76.

Arnold Palmer and Gary Player were among 20 pros deadlocked at 73. Bruce Crampton, No. 2 money winner and the only three-time winner of this season's tour, had a 77.

Winning Team In Breakfast League Honored

The high handicap game and series was turned in by Vera Rowland of 228 and 598.

Wesleyan Eliminated

CARBONDALE, Ill (AP) — Ohio Wesleyan was eliminated from contention for the NCAA-Mid-East Regional baseball title Thursday by losing to Southern Illinois University, 6-1.

Needham Shows 17 Strikeouts In Junior Loop

Kim Needham fanned 17 batters in a six-inning game to feature play in the HIH Junior League Thursday.

Needham hurled the Salineville Chiefs to a 5-2 victory over the Highlandtown Apaches. The Chiefs collected seven hits off Vince Crist who struck out 12 batters.

In another contest, the Hammondsville Red Sox defeated the Highlandtown Rebels, 7-1. Gene Furbee, the winning pitcher, tripled in two runs to put his team in front for good.

Bret Hanover Paces Off 28th Straight

DETROIT (AP) — Unbeaten Bret Hanover paced off victory No. 28 at the Wolverine Raceway Thursday night, matching the all-time mark set by Torpid in 1957 and taking the $21,434 Matron Stake.

Driver Frank Ervin opened up in the stretch and covered the mile in 2:02 4-5, fastest of the season here before a turnout of 6,000.

Fans Get Last Look At Snell

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Track fans will get their last look at sensational Peter Snell of New Zealand tonight as he heads a crack group of runners in the mile run in the annual Compton Invitational meet in Memorial Coliseum.

The action was shifted from nearby Compton because of poor facilities in its original setting.

Billed to compete against Snell, who says this is his last season of competition, are such other sub-four-minute milers as youthful Jim Ryun, the Wichita, Kan., high school star; and veterans Jim Grelle, Cary Weisiger, Bob Schul and Josef Odlozil of Czechoslovakia.

Snell will be aiming at his own world mark of 3:54.1 but, as in past appearances here, he cautioned that he generally runs to win, not necessarily lower a record.

Cananzi's Latest Entry Scores In Three Dog Shows

Cananzi's Mill Creek Princess of Joy won winners bitch and best of opposite sex at Wheeling and captured winners bitch and best of winner at Butler and Warren. She gained a three point major at Butler and won two points in her showing at Warren.

SOUTH CERNEY, England (AP)—Dick Schroeder of Bryan, Ohio, who was leading the Standard Class over-all standings after two races in the World Gliding Championships, fell three miles short of the goal Thursday and dropped out of the top spot.

Signs With Packers

Local Nine Beaten, 3-1 By Monaca

Monaca's two - run first inning proved the difference in a 3-1 loss suffered by the East Liverpool Friendly Bowling Merchants in a Beaver County League game Thursday at Midland.

Walker, the losing hurler, only gave up three hits as did Monaca's Pquansky who limited the East Liverpool nine to one run in the second inning.

All of Monaca's runs were unearned as the Friendly-Merchants committed four errors.

At 5-County Meeting

Group's Briefed On Development

A delegation from Hancock County participated in a five-county meeting this week at the Weirton Community Center relative to the program development phase of the Economic Opportunity Act.

A team of coordinators from the office of Gov. Hulett Smith at Charleston led the discussion. Heading up the group was Dr. Eugene Thoenen, deputy coordinator. Assisting were John Hey and Jack C. Whiting, assistant coordinators.

ATTENDING from Hancock County were: Paul Harris and the Rev. David Stone of the Christian Center; Ray Shaw of the County Planning Commission; Welty Vulgamore, mayor of New Cumberland, and Robert Harris Jr., councilman; Oliver Johnson, county extension agent; Miss Irene Snider of the West Virginia Employment Office; Paul Chuma, assistant city manager of Weirton; Leonard Salerno, Youth Job Corps; Miss Ada Hindman, director of county welfare, and Mrs. Phyllis Jividen.

Brooke County was represented by George C. Mouser, county extension agent; Jack Upton and Bernard Kelly, Community Action Committee.

Others attending were: The Rev. Robert Wainstreet of Wheeling; C. J. Cunningham, county agent, Ohio County; Kenneth R. Rogerson, and county agent D. A. Hutchinson from Moundsville, and J. R. Merrifield and Dale Bonnett from New Martinsville.

It was primarily a work meeting, with Dr. Thoenen informing the group that the first step in the program was the forming of a non-profit corporation.

He said that the membership "may ideally be made up of 50 or more, with one-third coming from the lower income brackets, as well as representation of minority groups."

The governing body should include a board of 15 to 25 members, he explained.

THE GOVERNOR'S team then outlined instructions for making application for program development.

This involves preparing a budget for a program developer, an assistant, and secretarial staff, plus office and operating funds. The suggested salary for a program developer was quoted at $7,500 to $9,000.

It was explained that program development was laying a foundation for any future programs. After the problems have been identified, then projects may be developed and applications made under the Community Action Program, Dr. Thoenen said. The program developer then would assume the role of administrator.

Budget - wise, 90 per cent would be federal funds and 10 per cent local. In most instances the 10 per cent can be made up in services and facilities, according to the team of coordinators.

Gov. Smith, they said, has set a deadline of June 15 to get operations launched in each county.

Hey told of a Public Development Economic Act of 1965 being promoted that would assist with hospitals and other public facilities; also making provision for low interest loans.

Officers Are Installed By Lisbon BPW Club

Mrs. Evelyn Burson of S. Lincoln Ave. was installed as president of the Lisbon Business and Professional Women's Club for the coming year during a dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Wick Hotel.

She succeeds Mrs. Annetta Courtney, who has served as president the last two years.

Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president of the East Liverpool BPW and chairman of the East Liverpool sponsoring committee which organized the club, was the installing officer for Mrs. Burson and the executive staff: Mrs. Sarah Andrus, first vice president; Mrs. Dorothy McDevitt, second vice president; Miss Diane Armstrong, recording secretary; Mrs. Katherine Engel, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Margaret McMillen, treasurer.

Guests included Mrs. Ruth Ann Jones of Cleveland, a former member of the Lisbon club; Miss Grace Woodward of East Liverpool; Mrs. Mary Fry of Guilford Lake, and Miss Joyce Foster of Lisbon, graduating senior of David Anderson High School, who received the annual award presented for outstanding scholarship in business subjects.

New members initiated by Mrs. McKinnon were Mrs. Charlene Hall of Leetonia, Mrs. Kathrine Bieshelt of Columbiana, Miss Ann Overturf, Mrs. Marjorie Green, Miss Jacquelyn Judge, Mrs. Faye Lewton, Mrs. Marie Neal, Mrs. Mary Alice Rumberger, Mrs. Donna Lambert and Mrs. Thelma Lindesmith, all of Lisbon.

At the business session conducted by both Mrs. Courtney and Mrs. Burson, it was announced two more BPW emblems, along with other club signs, will be erected along Route 30, south and west of Lisbon.

Club members will serve as hostesses for the Old Stone House July 2 and 4. A donation of $40 was made to the Lisbon volunteer fire department ambulance fund.

Mrs. Burson appointed the following committee chairmen: Program, Mrs. Andrus; personal development, Mrs. Rumberger; civic participation, Mrs. Courtney; world affairs, Mrs. Lambert; finance, Mrs. Jean Ann Cook; public relations, Miss Meretta Ikirt; membership, Mrs. McDevitt; legislative, Mrs. Lewton; service, Mrs. Engel.

Mrs. Courtney presented the president's pin to Mrs. Burson, who in turn presented her with the past president's pin. The president's gavel, a gift to Mrs. Burson by her husband, was presented by Mrs. Jones. Her corsage was a gift from her twin sisters, Mrs. Elaine Griffith and Mrs. Jayne Calhoun and Miss Woodward. Mrs. Andrus' corsage was a gift from her husband, Richard Andrus, and Mrs. McDevitt's gift corsage was from her daughter and son, Mrs. Shirley Hiscox and Ralph McDevitt.

Mrs. McKinnon, in a brief talk following the installation and initiation, informed the club that sponsorship by the East Liverpool BPW has been concluded. The Lisbon club was organized June 27, 1962, with Mrs. Griffith the first president.

White bird cages arranged with yellow carnation and ivy were the table decorations. The speaker's table featured trailing ivy, nestled with varied species of birds, leading to the bird cages, and flanked by yellow tapers in silver candelabra.

The membership committee, Mrs. Burson, chairman, Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs. Mary Hiscox, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Hall, was in charge.

The next meeting, Wednesday, July 7, will be husbands' and guests' night in the form of a picnic dinner at the Lions Cottage. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. Rumberger and Mrs. Ruth Pasco.

City Tie Cited After Arrest For Numbers

East Liverpool police cooperated quietly in a long investigation that led to the arrest of a local patrolman's brother Thursday by Beaver County detectives on charges of transporting numbers slips from the city to Aliquippa, Chief A. J. Radeschi said today.

Nathaniel Charles Hayes, 47, of 1173 Harker Ave., brother of Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes, was taken into custody in Raccoon Township on a charge of trafficking in a lottery. District Atty. Robert Masters said at Beaver the arrest was a result of an investigation of a ring "apparently operating in Aliquippa, Midland, Chester and East Liverpool."

"The local department cooperated in the investigation throughout, working actively at various angles in the case both here and in Beaver County," Chief Radeschi said.

"The investigation is continuing on several related angles and I expect more developments soon."

Detectives Steven Mihalic and Louis Polce, who apprehended Hayes on Green Garden Rd., said he had in his possession 16 sheets of notations of data which indicated more than $1,000 for a one-day play on the numbers.

They said the arrest was a culmination of many weeks of investigation touched off on a report numbers slips were being transported from East Liverpool to Aliquippa.

Under normal conditions, the average person speaks from 90 to 150 words per minute.

Hospital Treats 4 Area Children

Troy William Gotschall, son of William Gotschall of 1524 Wyoming Ave., suffered a puncture wound of the forehead in a fall in the yard at home.

Lawrenceville Firemen Elect

Officers for the coming year were elected and installed at a meeting of the Lawrenceville fire department Thursday night.

Howard Clendenning was appointed a three-year trustee. George McDole was named fire chief, Orville Leaisure assistant chief, Joe Bennett captain and Ken Goodlin assistant captain.

Plans were discussed for attending parades in Chester and in Carrollton, Ohio.

Francis Bellamy wrote the original U.S. pledge of allegiance to the flag. It first was used in 1892 when the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America was celebrated. The pledge wasn't officially approved by Congress, however, until Dec. 28, 1945.

Officers Are Installed By Lisbon BPW Club

Mrs. Evelyn Burson of S. Lincoln Ave. was installed as president of the Lisbon Business and Professional Women's Club for the coming year during a dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Wick Hotel.

She succeeds Mrs. Annetta Courtney, who has served as president the last two years.

Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president of the East Liverpool BPW and chairman of the East Liverpool sponsoring committee which organized the club, was the installing officer for Mrs. Burson and the executive staff: Mrs. Sarah Andrus, first vice president; Mrs. Dorothy McDevitt, second vice president; Miss Diane Armstrong, recording secretary; Mrs. Katherine Engel, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Margaret McMillen, treasurer.

Guests included Mrs. Ruth Ann Jones of Cleveland, a former member of the Lisbon club; Miss Grace Woodward of East Liverpool; Mrs. Mary Fry of Guilford Lake, and Miss Joyce Foster of Lisbon, graduating senior of David Anderson High School, who received the annual award presented for outstanding scholarship in business subjects.

New members initiated by Mrs. McKinnon were Mrs. Charlene Hall of Leetonia, Mrs. Kathrine Bieshelt of Columbiana, Miss Ann Overturf, Mrs. Marjorie Green, Miss Jacquelyn Judge, Mrs. Faye Lewton, Mrs. Marie Neal, Mrs. Mary Alice Rumberger, Mrs. Donna Lambert and Mrs. Thelma Lindesmith, all of Lisbon.

At the business session conducted by both Mrs. Courtney and Mrs. Burson, it was announced two more BPW emblems, along with other club signs, will be erected along Route 30, south and west of Lisbon.

Club members will serve as hostesses for the Old Stone House July 2 and 4. A donation of $40 was made to the Lisbon volunteer fire department ambulance fund.

Mrs. Burson appointed the following committee chairmen: Program, Mrs. Andrus; personal development, Mrs. Rumberger; civic participation, Mrs. Courtney; world affairs, Mrs. Lambert; finance, Mrs. Jean Ann Cook; public relations, Miss Meretta Ikirt; membership, Mrs. McDevitt; legislative, Mrs. Lewton; service, Mrs. Engel.

Mrs. Courtney presented the president's pin to Mrs. Burson, who in turn presented her with the past president's pin. The president's gavel, a gift to Mrs. Burson by her husband, was presented by Mrs. Jones. Her corsage was a gift from her twin sisters, Mrs. Elaine Griffith and Mrs. Jayne Calhoun and Miss Woodward. Mrs. Andrus' corsage was a gift from her husband, Richard Andrus, and Mrs. McDevitt's gift corsage was from her daughter and son, Mrs. Shirley Hiscox and Ralph McDevitt.

Mrs. McKinnon, in a brief talk following the installation and initiation, informed the club that sponsorship by the East Liverpool BPW has been concluded. The Lisbon club was organized June 27, 1962, with Mrs. Griffith the first president.

White bird cages arranged with yellow carnation and ivy were the table decorations. The speaker's table featured trailing ivy, nestled with varied species of birds, leading to the bird cages, and flanked by yellow tapers in silver candelabra.

The membership committee, Mrs. Burson, chairman, Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs. Mary Hiscox, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Hall, was in charge.

The next meeting, Wednesday, July 7, will be husbands' and guests' night in the form of a picnic dinner at the Lions Cottage. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Calhoun, Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. Rumberger and Mrs. Ruth Pasco.

City Tie Cited After Arrest For Numbers

East Liverpool police cooperated quietly in a long investigation that led to the arrest of a local patrolman's brother Thursday by Beaver County detectives on charges of transporting numbers slips from the city to Aliquippa, Chief A. J. Radeschi said today.

Nathaniel Charles Hayes, 47, of 1173 Harker Ave., brother of Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes, was taken into custody in Raccoon Township on a charge of trafficking in a lottery. District Atty. Robert Masters said at Beaver the arrest was a result of an investigation of a ring "apparently operating in Aliquippa, Midland, Chester and East Liverpool."

"The local department cooperated in the investigation throughout, working actively at various angles in the case both here and in Beaver County," Chief Radeschi said.

"The investigation is continuing on several related angles and I expect more developments soon."

Detectives Steven Mihalic and Louis Polce, who apprehended Hayes on Green Garden Rd., said he had in his possession 16 sheets of notations of data which indicated more than $1,000 for a one-day play on the numbers.

They said the arrest was a culmination of many weeks of investigation touched off on a report numbers slips were being transported from East Liverpool to Aliquippa.

Under normal conditions, the average person speaks from 90 to 150 words per minute.

Hospital Treats 4 Area Children

Troy William Gotschall, son of William Gotschall of 1524 Wyoming Ave., suffered a puncture wound of the forehead in a fall in the yard at home.

Ricky Thorne, son of Jerry Thorne of 222½ W. 9th St., received an injury to the right foot when he jumped from a porch at home.

Lawrenceville Firemen Elect

Officers for the coming year were elected and installed at a meeting of the Lawrenceville fire department Thursday night.

Howard Clendenning was appointed a three-year trustee. George McDole was named fire chief, Orville Leaisure assistant chief, Joe Bennett captain and Ken Goodlin assistant captain.

Plans were discussed for attending parades in Chester and in Carrollton, Ohio.

South Viet's Casualty List Rises Sharply

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Heavy ground fighting continued across South Viet Nam today and government casualties for today and Thursday rose to at least 239 killed, missing or wounded.

Vietnamese troops were caught in two more Communist ambushes, one a followup action by the Reds to an earlier ambush near Lao Thien, about 150 miles northeast of Saigon.

Casualties in the first ambush of a six-vehicle convoy Thursday totaled 15 government troops killed, 15 wounded and 15 missing. Two armored cars were destroyed, two trucks damaged and two machine guns lost. Communist losses were not known.

A relief force sent in a few hours later was hit about seven miles northeast of the first action. The government losses in this engagement were nine killed and 14 wounded. Planes and artillery fire finally routed the guerrillas.

Another ambush occurred near Kontum, about 285 miles northeast of Saigon, where a six-truck convoy was on a food pickup mission. A military spokesman said first reports listed 12 Vietnamese killed and nine missing. There were no reports of Communist losses.

The Viet Cong, blasting back with 50-caliber machine guns, broke out of the envolopment but suffered heavy losses, a spokesman said.

Government losses were listed as 18 killed and 52 wounded, but the figure was expected to go higher when a fuller report is received. Twenty Viet Cong bodies were found, and trails of blood indicated the enemy casualties were much higher.

U.S. Marines beat off an attack by an estimated 50 guerrillas in a 15-minute skirmish near Le My, a Communist-infested string of hamlets about six miles northeast of the Da Nang air base. Two Marines were wounded and three guerrillas were known killed.

The battle was described as the hottest the 2nd Marine Battalion has taken part in since it arrived in Viet Nam April 10.

One of the wounded Marines was hit in the leg and evacuated to a hospital. His condition was described as good. The other suffered a slight arm wound.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes made seven strikes against targets in North Viet Nam, including a Communist military headquarters and communications center at Ban Ma about 90 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Navy Aircraft from the carrier Bon Homme Richard flew more than 90 sorties Thursday against Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam, military sources said. Pilots said they dropped 68 tons of bombs and destroyed at least 142 buildings.

A U.S. military spokesman said at least six Soviet IL28 jet bombers of Korean War vintage have been spotted on the ground in North Viet Nam over the past week.

The IL28's have a speed of 500 miles an hour and a range of 1,200 miles. They are the counterpart of the U.S. B57 Canberra.

About 2,000 U.S. paratroopers testing their might against the Viet Cong and the rugged terrain completed the largest American operation of the war Thursday night.

The paratroopers killed at least three guerrillas during the four-day practical-training operation and suffered six casualties, none serious, a U.S. military spokesman said. One reliable report said two of the American injured were hit by fragments of U.S. artillery rounds that fell short.

Supported by heavy artillery and air strikes, the 1st and 2nd Battalions of the 173rd Airborne Brigade fanned out over an area 5 miles wide and 10 miles long on the edge of "D" zone, a Viet Cong stronghold 40 miles northeast of Saigon. The battalions were lifted into separate landing zones Monday and linked forces Tuesday.

Area Meeting Held By Berry Growers

LISBON — Seventy - five area berry growers attended a Columbiana - Mahoning meeting Thursday night at the Joe Less Farm, Salem R.D. 5, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Gemini

"I'm coming," White said reluctantly.

As he eased back into the capsule, he added: "It's the saddest moment of my life."

The launch went off flawlessly Thursday after a 1-hour, 16-minute delay, but there was a measure of disappointment. McDivitt's plan to pull within a few feet of the tumbling second stage Titan 2 rocket was canceled. Too much fuel had been used in chasing the abandoned booster, itself an orbiting satellite.

Space officials had hoped the rendezvous maneuver would give the space pilots the vital experience needed for the moon trip the United States hopes to make by 1970.

But the crowd pleaser Thursday was the space stroll when White, linked to the capsule by a slim golden leash, cavorted in the void eight minutes longer than planned.

Dr. Charles Berry, the astronauts' physician, told a news conference White was not disoriented while outside the spacecraft, as his Soviet predecessor had been.

"He even walked on the spacecraft," Dr. Berry said. "Ed was all over the Gemini 4 under, behind and on top of it."

The order from Houston Mission Control for White to return to the capsule was the second time ground control had reminded the pilots they were not on a space picnic.

White, an Air Force general's son who has flown everything from balloons to bombers, took advantage of every inch of the golden lifeline connecting him to the capsule.

"One thing, when Ed gets out there and starts wiggling around it sure makes the spacecraft tough to control," McDivitt said soon after the space walk had begun.

In space there is no resisting friction, and the 7,600 pound spacecraft moved with each touch.

White returned safely to his contour couch, but there was difficulty closing the hatch, Mission Director Chris Kraft told newsmen later. As a result, the space twins were unable to dump some of the equipment that had become surplus after the space walk. It left the capsule "somewhat crowded" Kraft said.

At a late afternoon briefing Dr. Robert Seamans, National Aeronautics and Space Administration associate director, said he was "extremely pleased with the flight. We have already learned a lot that will be helpful in future missions."

The wives of the two stayed at their homes watching television until White completed his walk, then visited mission control headquarters, the heart of the NASA complex, about 25 miles southeast of downtown Houston.

"I could hear him laughing," said Mrs. White, a honey blonde. "I wasn't worried. "I knew it would workout all okay."

She said their two children were so proud of their father "they could bust; they just don't know what to do."

"We were all having a ball," said Mrs. McDivitt," and we still are."

The women returned home after about 45 minutes at the control center. They did not talk to their husbands on the Gemini communications facilities.

Among the millions of Americans who watched the dramatic blast-off on television was President Johnson, who said afterward, "Our prayers have been answered."

Space officials at Houston — where mission control is being handled for the first time — said at a news conference that "we had indications" that Johnson would like to communicate with the astronauts aboard the craft.

However, they said, the Gemini 4 position was not favorable for a call Thursday, but that "we passed on the most opportune time for the call tomorrow."

White originally planned to leave the capsule during the second orbit. However, it required more time than expected to get him hooked to his special gear — the golden tether, an emergency oxygen chest pack, the maneuvering gun shaped like bicycle handlebars with a camera attached.

"We'll do it next time around," McDivitt decided.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Elizabeth Hall

Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, 124 Center St., died Thursday at 9:10 p. m. at City Hospital following a brief illness. She was 75.

Mrs. Hall was born in East Liverpool Feb. 21, 1890, to the late William Tucker and Sarah Efaw Tucker.

A ware dresser for 23 years at Plants 4 and 8 of the Homer Laughlin China Co., she retired in 1962. Her husband, Luther Hall, died Nov. 26, 1951.

She was a member of the First Church of the Nazarene, Mizpah Class and IBOP Local 192.

minutes. Apparently the other morning newspapers went to press before news of White's feat arrived.

"The Soviet people sincerely congratulate the two cosmonauts and the American scientists on this achievement," said Moscow radio after broadcasting word of the Gemini launching.

The live television transmissions of the takeoff, relayed to Europe by the Early Bird satellite, were a huge success.

Swedish TV experts described it as "a tele-technical triumph."

The Brussels newspaper Het Laatste Niews noted that the Gemini men had failed in their attempt to rendezvous with their booster rocket but commented: "What is in favor of the American scientists is that they undertake their space flight totally in the open, so that the whole world can live success or failure with them in the very instant it takes place."

mately 2,100 men," the President said.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko asked the Security Council to get the Inter-American Force out of the Dominican Republic and to investigate rebel charges that the junta has executed hundreds of rebel sympathizers.

U.S. Delegate Charles W. Yost replied that the council was not the place to discuss charges of violation of human rights. He said the Inter-American Force was helping the Dominicans and did not violate the U.N. Charter.

Woodcarver Attracts No Little Attention

He carves unusual shapes and colorful pieces from the limbs of the diamond willow to make floor lamps, candlesticks and planters.

"The natural colors I bring out of this limb," he said, "will be burnt orange, brown and white."

Hartwig, a retired metallurgical welder, enhances his carvings by following the natural outlines in the grain and knots of the limbs to emphasize the knarred beauty of the wood.

While on a trip to Alaska, he discovered the diamond willow which has three colors in one piece of wood.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How do I wash organdy curtains?

A.—Soak white organdy, dimity, or net curtains in lukewarm water before washing. Even the most immaculate housekeeper will be surprised at the amount of dirt that has accumulated in the sheer curtains in a short period of time. Lift the curtains out carefully, and drain off the dirty water. Wash in heavy lukewarm suds, rinse thoroughly, and roll into towels. Iron when partly dry.

Q.—How can I induce a stronger light from a reading lamp with the light bulb that is now in it?

A.—If you'll paint the inside of a parchment shade with a thin coat of white paint, you'll magnify the light from the lamp!

Q.—How can I remove ballpoint pen stains from fabrics?

A.—These usually yield to carbon tetrachloride!

Q.—How can I mend a broken lipstick?

A.—All you have to do is heat the broken ends over a gas, match, or cigarette - lighter flame until they melt enough to adhere when you press them together. Then don't use the lipstick until the ends have had enough time to get together and cool off.

Q.—What can I do about the removal of a discoloration in my washbowl or bathtub caused by a dripping faucet?

South Viet's Casualty List Rises Sharply

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Heavy ground fighting continued across South Viet Nam today and government casualties for today and Thursday rose to at least 239 killed, missing or wounded.

Vietnamese troops were caught in two more Communist ambushes, one a followup action by the Reds to an earlier ambush near Lao Thien, about 150 miles northeast of Saigon.

Casualties in the first ambush of a six-vehicle convoy Thursday totaled 15 government troops killed, 15 wounded and 15 missing. Two armored cars were destroyed, two trucks damaged and two machine guns lost. Communist losses were not known.

A relief force sent in a few hours later was hit about seven miles northeast of the first action. The government losses in this engagement were nine killed and 14 wounded. Planes and artillery fire finally routed the guerrillas.

Another ambush occurred near Kontum, about 285 miles northeast of Saigon, where a six-truck convoy was on a food pickup mission. A military spokesman said first reports listed 12 Vietnamese killed and nine missing. There were no reports of Communist losses.

The Viet Cong, blasting back with 50-caliber machine guns, broke out of the envolopment but suffered heavy losses, a spokesman said.

Government losses were listed as 18 killed and 52 wounded, but the figure was expected to go higher when a fuller report is received. Twenty Viet Cong bodies were found, and trails of blood indicated the enemy casualties were much higher.

U.S. Marines beat off an attack by an estimated 50 guerrillas in a 15-minute skirmish near Le My, a Communist-infested string of hamlets about six miles northeast of the Da Nang air base. Two Marines were wounded and three guerrillas were known killed.

The battle was described as the hottest the 2nd Marine Battalion has taken part in since it arrived in Viet Nam April 10.

One of the wounded Marines was hit in the leg and evacuated to a hospital. His condition was described as good. The other suffered a slight arm wound.

U.S. Navy and Air Force planes made seven strikes against targets in North Viet Nam, including a Communist military headquarters and communications center at Ban Ma about 90 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Navy Aircraft from the carrier Bon Homme Richard flew more than 90 sorties Thursday against Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam, military sources said. Pilots said they dropped 68 tons of bombs and destroyed at least 142 buildings.

A U.S. military spokesman said at least six Soviet IL28 jet bombers of Korean War vintage have been spotted on the ground in North Viet Nam over the past week.

The IL28's have a speed of 500 miles an hour and a range of 1,200 miles. They are the counterpart of the U.S. B57 Canberra.

About 2,000 U.S. paratroopers testing their might against the Viet Cong and the rugged terrain completed the largest American operation of the war Thursday night.

The paratroopers killed at least three guerrillas during the four-day practical-training operation and suffered six casualties, none serious, a U.S. military spokesman said. One reliable report said two of the American injured were hit by fragments of U.S. artillery rounds that fell short.

Supported by heavy artillery and air strikes, the 1st and 2nd Battalions of the 173rd Airborne Brigade fanned out over an area 5 miles wide and 10 miles long on the edge of "D" zone, a Viet Cong stronghold 40 miles northeast of Saigon. The battalions were lifted into separate landing zones Monday and linked forces Tuesday.

Area Meeting Held By Berry Growers

LISBON — Seventy - five area berry growers attended a Columbiana - Mahoning meeting Thursday night at the Joe Less Farm, Salem R.D. 5, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Gemini

"I'm coming," White said reluctantly.

As he eased back into the capsule, he added: "It's the saddest moment of my life."

The launch went off flawlessly Thursday after a 1-hour, 16-minute delay, but there was a measure of disappointment. McDivitt's plan to pull within a few feet of the tumbling second stage Titan 2 rocket was canceled. Too much fuel had been used in chasing the abandoned booster, itself an orbiting satellite.

Space officials had hoped the rendezvous maneuver would give the space pilots the vital experience needed for the moon trip the United States hopes to make by 1970.

But the crowd pleaser Thursday was the space stroll when White, linked to the capsule by a slim golden leash, cavorted in the void eight minutes longer than planned.

Dr. Charles Berry, the astronauts' physician, told a news conference White was not disoriented while outside the spacecraft, as his Soviet predecessor had been.

"He even walked on the spacecraft," Dr. Berry said. "Ed was all over the Gemini 4 under, behind and on top of it."

The order from Houston Mission Control for White to return to the capsule was the second time ground control had reminded the pilots they were not on a space picnic.

White, an Air Force general's son who has flown everything from balloons to bombers, took advantage of every inch of the golden lifeline connecting him to the capsule.

"One thing, when Ed gets out there and starts wiggling around it sure makes the spacecraft tough to control," McDivitt said soon after the space walk had begun.

In space there is no resisting friction, and the 7,600 pound spacecraft moved with each touch.

White maneuvered in front of McDivitt's porthole.

White returned safely to his contour couch, but there was difficulty closing the hatch, Mission Director Chris Kraft told newsmen later. As a result, the space twins were unable to dump some of the equipment that had become surplus after the space walk. It left the capsule "somewhat crowded" Kraft said.

At a late afternoon briefing Dr. Robert Seamans, National Aeronautics and Space Administration associate director, said he was "extremely pleased with the flight. We have already learned a lot that will be helpful in future missions."

The wives of the two stayed at their homes watching television until White completed his walk, then visited mission control headquarters, the heart of the NASA complex, about 25 miles southeast of downtown Houston.

"I could hear him laughing," said Mrs. White, a honey blonde. "I wasn't worried. "I knew it would workout all okay."

She said their two children were so proud of their father "they could bust; they just don't know what to do."

"We were all having a ball," said Mrs. McDivitt," and we still are."

The women returned home after about 45 minutes at the control center. They did not talk to their husbands on the Gemini communications facilities.

Among the millions of Americans who watched the dramatic blast-off on television was President Johnson, who said afterward, "Our prayers have been answered."

Space officials at Houston — where mission control is being handled for the first time — said at a news conference that "we had indications" that Johnson would like to communicate with the astronauts aboard the craft.

However, they said, the Gemini 4 position was not favorable for a call Thursday, but that "we passed on the most opportune time for the call tomorrow."

White originally planned to leave the capsule during the second orbit. However, it required more time than expected to get him hooked to his special gear — the golden tether, an emergency oxygen chest pack, the maneuvering gun shaped like bicycle handlebars with a camera attached.

"We'll do it next time around," McDivitt decided.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Elizabeth Hall

Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, 124 Center St., died Thursday at 9:10 p. m. at City Hospital following a brief illness. She was 75.

Mrs. Hall was born in East Liverpool Feb. 21, 1890, to the late William Tucker and Sarah Efaw Tucker.

A ware dresser for 23 years at Plants 4 and 8 of the Homer Laughlin China Co., she retired in 1962. Her husband, Luther Hall, died Nov. 26, 1951.

She was a member of the First Church of the Nazarene, Mizpah Class and IBOP Local 192.

Surviving are six sons, Norman Hall, Howard Hall and Paul Hall, all of East Liverpool, William Hall of Washington, Harry Hall of Norfolk, Va., and Richard Hall of Dover, Del.; three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Buzzard, Mrs. Helen Atkins and Mrs. Hazel Osborn, all of East Liverpool; a brother, Elisha Tucker of West Point; a sister, Mrs. Agnes Riddle of Rochester, Pa.; 30 grandchildren, and 7 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by the Rev. Claude G. Schlosser. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Thomas Mehaffy

Thomas F. Mehaffy of Zanesville, a native of Beaver County, died this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. R. (Grace) Heizman, in Zanesville. He was 86.

Mr. Mehaffy was born in Beaver County June 10, 1878, to the late Alexander Mehaffy and Hannah Adams Mehaffy. The family formerly resided in Hanover near Hookstown.

He was a member of the North Terrace Wesleyan Methodist Church in Zanesville, where he had lived for the last 11 years. His wife, Zilla, died in 1952.

Besides his daughter, he is survived by a son, F. A. Mehaffy of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and one grandchild.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Welch Funeral Home in Hookstown by the Rev. Gene Stanley of Zanesville. Burial will be in Mill Creek Hill Cemetery.

Clarence Allison

Clarence A. Allison, 65, of Avon Lake, a native of Wellsville, died Wednesday night at his home following a long illness.

Mr. Allison had resided in Avon Lake for 26 years and was a retired foreman in the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. plant in Cleveland. His wife, Gladys, died in 1964.

He was a member of Bigelow Masonic Lodge and Thatcher Chapter, both of Cleveland.

Surviving are two sons, Burgess B. Allison of Norfolk, Va., and Thomas C. Allison of Avon Lake; a sister, Mrs. Mary Dick, in Florida, and six grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at the Burmeister Funeral Home in Avon Lake. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery, Wellsville.

Mrs. Homer Lutz

Mrs. Grace Bowman Lutz, wife of Homer L. Lutz, 102½ E. 5th St., died suddenly Thursday night at her home. She was 66.

Mrs. Lutz was born in East Liverpool Oct. 31, 1898, to the late Charles Bowman and Sadie Leak Bowman. She was a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Services will be held Monday at 10:30 a.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home, with the Rev. H. Gene Toot officiating. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Mrs. Eleanor Gallia

Services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Eleanor L. Gallia of Tacoma, Wash., who died Wednesday at a Tacoma hospital after a lingering illness.

She was the wife of James J. Gallia, a native of Wellsville, and the daughter of Mrs. Georgia Reynolds of Sandusky and the late Edward J. Reynolds.

Mrs. Stella Pugh

Mrs. Stella Pugh, 72, widow of Vance Pugh, died Wednesday night at her home in Owossa, Mich., following a long illness.

Mr. Pugh, a former Wellsville resident, died three years ago.

Chapel services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Sunset Memorial Cemetery near Elyria.

Mrs. Robert Gailey

The Rev. Richard Olsen, pastor of the Fairview Reformed Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery, Industry.

906 Miles Of Ohio Interstate Opened Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Highway Director P. E. Masheter said today that 906 miles of Ohio's interstate highway system were open to traffic as of June 1 and 47.2 miles will be added by the end of the year.

The interstate mileage scheduled for completion by Dec. 31 represents a total cost of nearly $106 million. The entire system's price tag is about $2.6 billion for 1,529 highway miles.

minutes. Apparently the other morning newspapers went to press before news of White's feat arrived.

"The Soviet people sincerely congratulate the two cosmonauts and the American scientists on this achievement," said Moscow radio after broadcasting word of the Gemini launching.

The Brussels newspaper Het Laatste Niews noted that the Gemini men had failed in their attempt to rendezvous with their booster rocket but commented: "What is in favor of the American scientists is that they undertake their space flight totally in the open, so that the whole world can live success or failure with them in the very instant it takes place."

mately 2,100 men," the President said.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko asked the Security Council to get the Inter-American Force out of the Dominican Republic and to investigate rebel charges that the junta has executed hundreds of rebel sympathizers.

U.S. Delegate Charles W. Yost replied that the council was not the place to discuss charges of violation of human rights. He said the Inter-American Force was helping the Dominicans and did not violate the U.N. Charter.

Woodcarver Attracts No Little Attention

He carves unusual shapes and colorful pieces from the limbs of the diamond willow to make floor lamps, candlesticks and planters.

"The natural colors I bring out of this limb," he said, "will be burnt orange, brown and white."

Hartwig, a retired metallurgical welder, enhances his carvings by following the natural outlines in the grain and knots of the limbs to emphasize the knarred beauty of the wood.

While on a trip to Alaska, he discovered the diamond willow which has three colors in one piece of wood.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How do I wash organdy curtains?

A.—Soak white organdy, dimity, or net curtains in lukewarm water before washing. Even the most immaculate housekeeper will be surprised at the amount of dirt that has accumulated in the sheer curtains in a short period of time. Lift the curtains out carefully, and drain off the dirty water. Wash in heavy lukewarm suds, rinse thoroughly, and roll into towels. Iron when partly dry.

Q.—How can I induce a stronger light from a reading lamp with the light bulb that is now in it?

Q.—How can I mend a broken lipstick?

A.—All you have to do is heat the broken ends over a gas, match, or cigarette - lighter flame until they melt enough to adhere when you press them together. Then don't use the lipstick until the ends have had enough time to get together and cool off.

Q.—What can I do about the removal of a discoloration in my washbowl or bathtub caused by a dripping faucet?

A.—This will usually vanish when a paste of cream of tartar and peroxide is applied with a stiff brush. Plain old vinegar is sometimes very effective, too.

Mrs. Victor Williams of S. Lincoln Ave. will be hostess for the next meeting, Wednesday, July 7.

Ohio Sales, Use Tax Set Collection Mark

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Treasurer John D. Herbert says Ohio sales and use tax collections have passed the $300 million mark for the first time since the tax was levied in 1935.

Herbert reported Thursday that collections for the period July 1, 1964 to June 3, 1965, amounted to $300,906,803, an increase of $23.3 milllion over the same period a year earlier.

State Files Complaint To Bar Inmate's Trial

CLEVELAND (AP) — The state has filed a complaint in U.S. District Court to prevent the federal government from putting Alfred Oponowicz on trial for counterfeiting.

Oponowicz is serving a life sentence in Ohio Penitentiary for attempted bank robbery here, and Ohio law will not allow removal of a prisoner under life sentences unless it is for trial on a capital offense.

Gemini Chit-Chat

Transcript Of Conversation During White's Walk

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Here is the transcript of the conversation among astronauts Edward H. White II and James A. McDivitt and capsule communicator Virgil I. Grissom while White walked in space outside the Gemini 4 spacecraft:

McDivitt: "Tell us what you think."

McDivitt: "Not yet."

Grissom: "Take some pictures."

White: "Okay."

McDivitt: "Where are you?"

White: "I'm out front now."

Grissom: "You've got about five minutes."

(White explained to McDivitt he was going to do something, but the transmission was garbled).

(A pause)

(A laugh from both)

McDivitt: "See how it's all smeared up there?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivtt: "Ed, I don't know exactly where we are, but it looks like we're over Texas. As a matter of fact, you know, that looks like Houston down below us."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "Yeah, that's Galveston Bay right there."

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Hey, Ed can you see in your side of the spacecraft?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Can you see the camera here?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Is it pointing at you?"

McDivitt: "Which way?"

(A garbled reply from White)

Grissom, repeatedly amid garbled McDivitt-White conversation: "Gemini 4, Houston; Gemini 4, Houston; Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "All right. I've taken a lot, but they're not very good. You're in too close for most of them. I finally put the focus down to about eight feet or so."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

Ground to flight: "Flight, will you tell Gemini 4 to release the key when you're trying to talk to him?"

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "Got any messages for us."

McDivitt: "Okay. We're going to come back in now."

McDivitt: "No, back in. Come on."

McDivitt: "Okay."

McDivitt: "How you doing there?"

White: "I'm doing great."

McDivitt: "Good."

White: "I'm doing . . . I'm right on top of it, right now."

White: "Yeah, I'm (garbled)."

White again tells McDivitt something.

White: "All right."

McDivitt: "Okay, let's not lose (garbled)."

White: "I don't quite have it."

McDivitt: "Little bit more."

White: "Got it?"

McDivitt: "Okay, I got it."

McDivitt and White exchange more garbled conversation.

McDivitt: "Come on, let's get back in here before it gets dark."

White: "Okay."

McDivitt: "Come on now."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston Cap-Com."

(A delay and garbled conversation)

McDivitt: "Any messages for

Grissom, sternly: "Yeah, get back in."

Grissom: "You getting him back in?"

McDivitt gave a garbled reply.

Gemini Control reported signal lost in Bermuda. McDivitt returned to the network a few seconds later and talked to Grissom. It was garbled on the air.

Someone asked Grissom what McDivitt said. Grissom replied: "He said he was busy and had rather not talk to us."

As White slipped back into the capsule, he said to McDivitt: "It's the saddest moment of my life."

McDivitt laughed.

Transcript Of Conversation During White's Walk

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Here is the transcript of the conversation among astronauts Edward H. White II and James A. McDivitt and capsule communicator Virgil I. Grissom while White walked in space outside the Gemini 4 spacecraft:

McDivitt: "Tell us what you think."

McDivitt: "One thing about it when Ed gets out there and starts wiggling around it sure makes the spacecraft tough to control."

McDivitt: "Not yet."

Grissom: "Take some pictures."

White: "Okay."

McDivitt: "Where are you?"

White: "I'm out front now."

Grissom: "You've got about five minutes."

(White explained to McDivitt he was going to do something, but the transmission was garbled).

(White made observations that were garbled in transmission).

(A pause)

McDivitt: "You're smearing up my windshield, you dirty dog."

(A laugh from both)

McDivitt: "See how it's all smeared up there?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivtt: "Ed, I don't know exactly where we are, but it looks like we're over Texas. As a matter of fact, you know, that looks like Houston down below us."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "Yeah, that's Galveston Bay right there."

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Hey, Ed can you see in your side of the spacecraft?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Can you see the camera here?"

White: "Yeah."

McDivitt: "Is it pointing at you?"

McDivitt: "Which way?"

(A garbled reply from White)

Grissom, repeatedly amid garbled McDivitt-White conversation: "Gemini 4, Houston; Gemini 4, Houston; Gemini 4, Houston."

White: "I've only shot about three or four pictures."

McDivitt: "All right. I've taken a lot, but they're not very good. You're in too close for most of them. I finally put the focus down to about eight feet or so."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

Ground to flight: "Flight, will you tell Gemini 4 to release the key when you're trying to talk to him?"

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

McDivitt: "Got any messages for us."

McDivitt: "Okay. We're going to come back in now."

McDivitt: "No, back in. Come on."

White, laughingly but garbled: "I'm not coming in."

McDivitt: "Okay."

McDivitt: "How you doing there?"

White: "I'm doing great."

McDivitt: "Good."

White: "Yeah, I'm (garbled)."

White again tells McDivitt something.

White: "All right."

McDivitt: "Okay, let's not lose (garbled)."

White: "I don't quite have it."

McDivitt: "Little bit more."

White: "Got it?"

McDivitt: "Okay, I got it."

McDivitt and White exchange more garbled conversation.

White: "Okay."

The two exchange more garbled conversation.

McDivitt: "Come on now."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston."

Grissom: "Gemini 4, Houston Cap-Com."

(A delay and garbled conversation)

McDivitt: "Any messages for

Grissom, sternly: "Yeah, get back in."

Grissom: "You getting him back in?"

Grissom: "Okay, get him back in now. You're going to have Bermuda lost in about 20 (seconds)."

Grissom: "You got your cabin lights up bright in case you hit darkness?"

McDivitt gave a garbled reply.

Gemini Control reported signal lost in Bermuda. McDivitt returned to the network a few seconds later and talked to Grissom. It was garbled on the air.

Someone asked Grissom what McDivitt said. Grissom replied: "He said he was busy and had rather not talk to us."

As White slipped back into the capsule, he said to McDivitt: "It's the saddest moment of my life."

McDivitt laughed.

OFF THE RECORD

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I mend small holes in the bottom of an aluminum vessel?

A. — Buy copper or aluminum rivets, 1-16 - inch in diameter and ¼-inch long. Enlarge the holes so you can force the rivets through from the inside, then rest the heads of the rivets on a hard metal surface, and tap the other ends with a hammer until they flatten out and tighten up in the holes.

Q. — How can I make a good cleanser for nickel fixtures?

A. — Take equal parts of liquid ammonia and alcohol, and stir in enough whiting to make a paste. Apply this paste with a cloth, leaving the tarnished parts covered until it dries, then polish with a soft cloth.

Q. — What can I do when some of my youngsters' shoes have become to badly scuffed to take a good polish?

A. — Sometimes rubbing the shoes with a piece of raw potato, then applying your polish, bring up a good luster.

Q. — Have you any tips on the use of a star drill for making holes in concrete?

A. — You can make the job of pounding a star drill into the concrete much easier if you'll provide a firm, shock - resistant grip on your drill. To do this, cut a hole through a solid rubber ball and force your drill through it. The shock of your hammer blows will then be absorbed by the ball, and you'll reduce hand - fatigue considerably.

Q. — How can I repair small holes or short tears in canvas?

A. — By using rubber cement to apply your patching material. Weight the patch down for several hours to be sure it will stay in place.

Q. — How can I remove burnt spots on granite?

A. — By covering the spots with a teaspoonful of baking soda mixed to a paste with a little water, then heating it. Never scrape with a knife.

Junior Editors Quiz on PETRIFIED TREES

QUESTION: How could a forest become petrified?

ANSWER: There are several places in the United States where one can see a truly amazing sight—tree trunks and fragments of logs, which have been petrified, or turned to stone. In our picture, Hank is examining such a log in the Petrified National Forest of Arizona.

In the Triassic Period, more than 150 million years ago, the country where Hank stands was covered with swamps and forests of primitive trees. As time passed, many trees fell. Fallen logs, carried by streams in floods (1), accumulated in a shallow lake. Here they became buried under sediment (2), which gradually turned into sandstone and shale. Meanwhile, ground water penetrated the logs, dissolving the wood away. But the water was rich in such minerals as chalcedony and agate, forms of silica, and these were deposited, into each cell, in place of the vanishing wood structure. So, an exact reproduction of the logs' structure, complete even to the growth rings, was left, the swamps drained away and the land became dry. Then, heavy rains dissolved the sandstone covering the logs and washed it away, leaving the petrified logs uncovered. Upheavals of the land broke many logs into fragments, and there they are today (3)—for Hank to wonder at.

FOR YOU TO DO: A piece of petrified wood, especially one in cross section showing the grain of the wood, would make a fascinating addition to your mineral collection. You might buy such a piece, or get one by swapping.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Every now and then you print a letter proving that behind every successful man is a plucky, game little woman. I'm a man who has succeeded in the asphalt jungle and you are right.

My wife must be credited with a tremendous contribution to my success because she drove me out of the house with her nagging, criticizing and complaining. The office was infinitely more quiet and peaceful — and I enjoyed my work, so I became a 15-hour-a-day man, six or seven days a week. When a man puts in that kind of time, over a period of years, he's got to amount to something.

Dear Custom Made: It's generous of you to want to give your wife all the credit. But I think you deserve some credit, too—not only for your smashing success in business, but also for your miserable failure at home.

Some men who don't want to go home don't want to stay at work either, so they go scouting for trouble and they find it. Presumably you avoided this trap. So what do you want from me—a medal?

Marathon Eater

Dear Ann: Please tell me if you think our 12-year-old boy is eating too much.

Last night Louis had three helpings of chicken, three helpings of mashed potatoes, two pieces of apple pie and two glasses of milk. He would have taken a third glass of milk if I had said okay. My husband does not eat nearly as much as this boy and neither does our 14-year-old son.

Yesterday Louis came home from a scout hike and told me he ate three hamburgers and drank three bottles of pop. He boasted, "Even the scoutmaster didn't eat that much." Does this sound like a problem?—A MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Yes. It sounds like a boy who can't get attention through acceptable channels. Some kids would eat a dishrag dipped in vinegar to capture an audience.

When you make a point that Louis eats more than his father and older brother it suggests that he is overeating to show off. His braggadocio about outeating the scoutmaster is additional evidence.

Take the boy to a physician and let him decide if Louis should be on a diet. And stop talking about how much he eats.

A Good Line

Dear Ann: I'm a 20-year-old girl who lives at home and attends junior college. Last week I was dialing a friend and got a wrong number. The party on the line was pleasant, cultured and interesting.

This may sound crazy but I couldn't bring myself to hang up, so we talked. He said he is 24, single and gainfully employed. We are of the same religious faith although I'm a regular and he is not. We have similar interests in art, books and records.

He asked for my name and number so he could call me. I refused but agreed to call him again. We've had five conversations and I'm so fascinated with his voice that I can't wait until we speak again. To be honest, Ann, I'm dying to meet the fellow. Yes or no?—ANNABELLA.

Dear Annabella: Since you are both of the same religious faith, an ideal place to meet is in church.

If he declines the invitation, disconnect him permanently. And congratulations for being smart enough NOT to give him your name and number.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

35 Attend Merchants' Outing And Dinner

Thirty - five attended the annual outing and dinner of the East Liverpool Merchants Association Wednesday, highlighted by a trip to Pittsburgh in a chartered bus.

The group made a guided tour of the nationality rooms and the Heinz Chapel at the University of Pittsburgh and then went to the Webster Hall Hotel for dinner. The businessmen also were to attend the Pirates - Phillies baseball game at Forbes Field, but it was rained out.

The world's first crude lamp appeared probably about 30,000 years ago. This was a shallow, soapstone lamp with animal-fat fuel, and was used by Cro-Magnon man for illuminating his caves.

Aids Tornado Victims

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Roman Catholic Diocese, in response to an appeal by Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann, has contributed $44,000 toward relief of victims of the Palm Sunday tornadoes. Recepits of the special collection have been disbursed, the diocese said today.

Break Old Reservations

Southern Baptists Move Closer To Other Baptists

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Breaking away from old reservations, Southern Baptists today were on the way toward closer links to other Baptist bodies and firmer commitment to racial equality.

On both issues, their convention has moved ahead to stands which it rejected only a year ago.

All told, the actions "represent a progressive clarification of the mind of the convention on contemporary issues," said the Rev. Dr. C. Emanuel Carlson, head of the Baptist Public Affairs Office in Washington, D.C.

"A considerable shift of opinion has taken place in a short space of time," Dr. Carlson said. Observed the Rev. Dr. J. T. Ford, of Alexandria, Va.: "It indicates the maturing of our convention."

The huge assembly, with a record 15,578 "messengers" registered, drove through some torrid debate Thursday to approve participation in a new North American Baptist Fellowship and to hit hard at racial injustice.

After declining a part in the joint Baptist association last year, the convention approved it this time by a ballot vote of 4,911 to 2,401, overriding protests that it involved "ecumenical harlotry."

Four other Baptist bodies including the American Baptists (Northern) previously agreed to enter the new mutual agency.

Dr. Porter Routh, Southern Baptist executive secretary, said plans provided it would come into being when five denominations joined. This was accomplished by the Southern Baptist action.

Altogether, there are more than 20 million Baptists in America, 10½ million of them in the Southern Convention, the nation's largest Protestant body.

Bible School Set At East Fairfield

The annual vacation Bible School of the East Fairfield Methodist Church will be held Monday through June 18 at the church. Classes will be children and young people 4 through 14.

Eighteen attended a meeting of the Friendly Circle of the WSCS of the church Wednesday night at the parsonage.

Mrs. Ruthevelyn Wohrley and Mrs. Pauline Hawkins were hostesses. Mrs. Mary Whitten led devotions. Mrs. Ella Lower was program chairman.

An ice cream social sponsored by the Loyal Workers and Friendship Class of the church will be held Saturday night at the church. Proceeds will be used for the building fund.

Britain Firm To Close Lending Libraries

LONDON (AP) — Sign of the times?

Boots, a chain pharmacy concern, has decided to close down its more than 100 lending libraries which have been operating in Britain since 1899.

The libraries reached their peak during World War II when Boots had a million subscribers. Since then, the private libraries have been hit by paperbacks, television and the competition of public libraries.

Why are so many East Liverpool families rushing to Central Federal by the 10th of the month?

BECAUSE . . . because at Central Federal their savings, deposited by the 10th of the month, always earns a whopping big 4¼% dividend from the 1st. It's sort of an extra bonus . . . so remember, make your deposit by the 10th of this month and you'll earn 4¼% from the first. Also remember, your savings deposited at Central Federal are insured up to $10,000 by an agency of the federal government. You are invited to take advantage of the extra bonus at Central Federal.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Every now and then you print a letter proving that behind every successful man is a plucky, game little woman. I'm a man who has succeeded in the asphalt jungle and you are right.

My wife must be credited with a tremendous contribution to my success because she drove me out of the house with her nagging, criticizing and complaining. The office was infinitely more quiet and peaceful — and I enjoyed my work, so I became a 15-hour-a-day man, six or seven days a week. When a man puts in that kind of time, over a period of years, he's got to amount to something.

Dear Custom Made: It's generous of you to want to give your wife all the credit. But I think you deserve some credit, too—not only for your smashing success in business, but also for your miserable failure at home.

Some men who don't want to go home don't want to stay at work either, so they go scouting for trouble and they find it. Presumably you avoided this trap. So what do you want from me—a medal?

Marathon Eater

Dear Ann: Please tell me if you think our 12-year-old boy is eating too much.

Last night Louis had three helpings of chicken, three helpings of mashed potatoes, two pieces of apple pie and two glasses of milk. He would have taken a third glass of milk if I had said okay. My husband does not eat nearly as much as this boy and neither does our 14-year-old son.

Yesterday Louis came home from a scout hike and told me he ate three hamburgers and drank three bottles of pop. He boasted, "Even the scoutmaster didn't eat that much." Does this sound like a problem?—A MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Yes. It sounds like a boy who can't get attention through acceptable channels. Some kids would eat a dishrag dipped in vinegar to capture an audience.

When you make a point that Louis eats more than his father and older brother it suggests that he is overeating to show off. His braggadocio about outeating the scoutmaster is additional evidence.

Take the boy to a physician and let him decide if Louis should be on a diet. And stop talking about how much he eats.

A Good Line

Dear Ann: I'm a 20-year-old girl who lives at home and attends junior college. Last week I was dialing a friend and got a wrong number. The party on the line was pleasant, cultured and interesting.

This may sound crazy but I couldn't bring myself to hang up, so we talked. He said he is 24, single and gainfully employed. We are of the same religious faith although I'm a regular and he is not. We have similar interests in art, books and records.

He asked for my name and number so he could call me. I refused but agreed to call him again. We've had five conversations and I'm so fascinated with his voice that I can't wait until we speak again. To be honest, Ann, I'm dying to meet the fellow. Yes or no?—ANNABELLA.

Dear Annabella: Since you are both of the same religious faith, an ideal place to meet is in church.

If he declines the invitation, disconnect him permanently. And congratulations for being smart enough NOT to give him your name and number.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

35 Attend Merchants' Outing And Dinner

Thirty - five attended the annual outing and dinner of the East Liverpool Merchants Association Wednesday, highlighted by a trip to Pittsburgh in a chartered bus.

The group made a guided tour of the nationality rooms and the Heinz Chapel at the University of Pittsburgh and then went to the Webster Hall Hotel for dinner. The businessmen also were to attend the Pirates - Phillies baseball game at Forbes Field, but it was rained out.

The world's first crude lamp appeared probably about 30,000 years ago. This was a shallow, soapstone lamp with animal-fat fuel, and was used by Cro-Magnon man for illuminating his caves.

Aids Tornado Victims

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Roman Catholic Diocese, in response to an appeal by Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann, has contributed $44,000 toward relief of victims of the Palm Sunday tornadoes. Recepits of the special collection have been disbursed, the diocese said today.

Break Old Reservations

Southern Baptists Move Closer To Other Baptists

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Breaking away from old reservations, Southern Baptists today were on the way toward closer links to other Baptist bodies and firmer commitment to racial equality.

On both issues, their convention has moved anead to stands which it rejected only a year ago.

All told, the actions "represent a progressive clarification of the mind of the convention on contemporary issues," said the Rev. Dr. C. Emanuel Carlson, head of the Baptist Public Affairs Office in Washington, D.C.

"A considerable shift of opinion has taken place in a short space of time," Dr. Carlson said. Observed the Rev. Dr. J. T. Ford, of Alexandria, Va.: "It indicates the maturing of our convention."

The huge assembly, with a record 15,578 "messengers" registered, drove through some torrid debate Thursday to approve participation in a new North American Baptist Fellowship and to hit hard at racial injustice.

After declining a part in the joint Baptist association last year, the convention approved it this time by a ballot vote of 4,911 to 2,401, overriding protests that it involved "ecumenical harlotry."

Four other Baptist bodies including the American Baptists (Northern) previously agreed to enter the new mutual agency.

Dr. Porter Routh, Southern Baptist executive secretary, said plans provided it would come into being when five denominations joined. This was accomplished by the Southern Baptist action.

Altogether, there are more than 20 million Baptists in America, 10½ million of them in the Southern Convention, the nation's largest Protestant body.

Britain Firm To Close Lending Libraries

LONDON (AP) — Sign of the times?

Boots, a chain pharmacy concern, has decided to close down its more than 100 lending libraries which have been operating in Britain since 1899.

The libraries reached their peak during World War II when Boots had a million subscribers. Since then, the private libraries have been hit by paperbacks, television and the competition of public libraries.
